FIGHTING IN FRANCE STILL WITHOUT ANY DECISIVE RESULTS

Reports of Position of Allies Left Indicate German Right Is in Danger

LONDON, Sept. 23, 3:00 a. m.—The Daily Mail's correspondent reports that the German right has been turned between Peronne and St. Quentin. He says that during all Sunday night have been arriving at an unnamed place. They report there are nine miles of dead in trenches between those two towns.

LONDON, Sept. 22, 9:15 p. m.—There have been no important changes on the battle fronts in Northern France. The opposing armies continue to gain a little here and lose a little there. Those gains may tell in the long run, but have brought no decisive result for either side.

The French official report issued this afternoon, again lays some stress on the announcement that an advance is being made by the allies' left wing on the right bank of the River Oise, from which point both the public and military experts look for first indications of how the battle is likely to end.

Although the official reports do not go beyond saying the Germans have been forced to give ground before the French attacks, and speak of Noyon and the district around that city as the center of operations, some correspondents describe the allies left as extending from just west of Noyon to as far north as Lecatele, from which point, or Peronne, the new army of which there have been so many reports, but no confirmation, is supposed to be operating to threaten the German right wing.

German Right In Danger.

If this is true, the German right is in a very dangerous position for it cannot extend much farther north or west of St. Quentin. Its position runs thence by way of Chaun and south of Naon, to north of Rheims.

On the plateau of Craonne, severe fighting has been going on for days, but there is no late information as to whether the Germans or the allies hold the commanding positions here. The allies had the plateau a few days ago but the German official report claims that it had been re-taken, together with the village of Betheny.

In the center between Rheims and Souain, which the French occupied early in the week, there has been more desperate fighting, the Germans taking the offensive and, according to the French reports, being repulsed. The Germans also have made some attacks in the Woevre district without success, but they have succeeded in again crossing the Lorraine frontier and occupying Donestre, to the south of Blamont.

The French have captured additional prisoners and supply trains.

Russian Successes.

The Russians have followed up their successes in Galicia, where a third great battle is about to begin, if it has not already begun, by capturing the important fortress of Jaroslau, on the River San, just north of Przemysl, which they are surrounding.

Jaroslau commands the passage of the San river and its possession will greatly assist the Russians in their operations against Przemysl where a strong Austro-German force is prepared to offer stubborn resistance in the hope at least of detaining the Russian armies which are needed to take the offensive against Germany.

The Servians report another victory over the Austrians, who thus far have suffered severely on all sides.

This engagement occurred near Kroupani on the Drina river, where the Austrians attempted to invade Servia, but were driven back. This attack accounts for the Servian evacuation of Semlin, as the troops were needed to stem the Austrian offensive movement.

To March Into Bosnia.

The Servians feel they can now proceed with the invasion of Bosnia, and the troops at Vishegrad have been ordered to march on Sarajevo, which town is the birthplace of the present war, for there occurred the assassination of the Austrian heir-apparent, Archduke Francis Ferdinand.

The Servians and Montenegrins are within ten miles of Sarajevo, and the Austrians have made one sortie from the town, according to a Rome dispatch but quickly turned back in the face of the opposing forces.

There is a rumor, too, that Essad Pasha, the former Albanian minister of war, as a result of an agreement with the Servian government, will lead an Albanian army into Herzegovina by way of Cattaro.

No Rest Given.

AT THE BATTLE FRONT, Sept. 22, via Paris, 6:01 p. m.—Not a moment's respite was given last night to the German forces entrenched along the ninety-mile front running along the rivers Aisne and Oise and extending into the Woevre district.

The batteries of the allied forces never entirely ceased firing all night although their activity diminished somewhat after sundown.

The Germans occupying the trenches kept constantly on the alert, but until 2 o'clock this morning, no aggressive move was started from the allies' lines facing them. Then all the allied batteries seemed to open fire together and every point along the front became very active.

At the western end of the line the allied infantry gathered in the trenches and simultaneously at various points crept out and advanced cautiously in wide open lines toward the German positions.

The French and British on several occasions succeeded in surprising and driving back the occupants of the German trenches, but only after the most stubborn fighting and after heavy losses to both sides. In every instance the allied troops retained the ground captured and immediately dug themselves in.

Further east the Germans themselves developed a strong attack and though beaten back with the bayonet, returned again and again. Finally they were driven off to their original positions. The allied commanders were able to give the troops who had been occupying the advance firing line a welcome rest by pushing fresh troops to the front.

Military experts estimate that nearly two million or more men are now in the zone where the battle has been in progress ten days.

French Statement.

PARIS, Sept. 22, 3:06 p. m. — The following official announcement was made in Paris today:

"Along the entire front from the Oise to the Woevre, the Germans manifested yesterday, September 21, a certain activity, without, however, obtaining appreciable results."

"First on our left wing, on the right bank of the river Oise, the Germans were obliged to fall back before the French attacks. Between the Oise and the Aisne the situation remains unchanged. The enemy has not delivered any serious attack, contenting himself yesterday, Monday evening, with a continued cannonading.

"Second on the center, between Rheims and Souain the enemy attempted an offensive movement, which was repulsed, while between Souain and the Argonne we have made some progress.

"Between the Argonne and the river Meuse there has been no change.

"In the Woevre district the enemy made a violent effort; he attacked the heights of the Meuse along the front between Tresauvaux, Vigneulles and Hendicourt, without, however, succeeding in gaining position on these heights.

"On our right wing, in Lorraine, the enemy has again passed the frontier, using in this operation a number of small columns. Donestre, to the south of Blamont, has been reoccupied by the enemy.

"During the days of September 20 and September 21, we captured twenty automobiles used in moving provisions, together with all the men attached to them. We also captured on these days numerous prisoners belonging principally to the Eighth, Ninth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth German army corps, to the Bavarian Landwehr and to the reserve corps.

"Concerning the Russians in Galicia: The rear guards of the Austrians have been pursued by the Russians and have suffered considerable losses. Russian troops have come in contact with the Austrian garrison near Przemysl. The heavy Russian artillery is bombarding the fortifications of Jaroslav."

Men Sacrificed.

PARIS, Sept. 23, 12:50 a. m.—Wounded soldiers who are commencing to arrive here from the region of Craonne, describe the battles there Sunday and Monday as having been deadly for the Germans who, they say, were sacrificed without apparent reason by their officers.

Though pushed back with great slaughter, some of the wounded say, the Germans returned again and again, only to be mowed down by the French. One entire regiment, it was declared, was wiped out, and when the French took possession of the field, they found 12,000 wounded left by the Germans. Trenches that had been carefully prepared for resistance of the allies' advance, were filled with dead.

A superior officer among the wounded estimated the German losses in this engagement alone, at 7,000.

Win in Lorraine.

BERLIN, Sept. 22, by wireless to Sayville, L. I.—The announcement given at official headquarters under date of September 21, relates that in the fighting around Rheims the Germans have occupied the heights of Craonne and that in advancing on the French city, which is described as on fire, they occupied the village of Betheny.

The Germans have attacked the line of forts to the south of Verdun and they crossed victoriously the eastern frontier of Lorraine, which was defended by eight French army corps.

Several Days Yet.

BORDEAUX, Sept. 22, 8:20 p. m.—"The battle between the Oise and the Meuse probably will last three or four days longer," says the Temps in a military review today.

"But reports indicate that the resistance of the enemy is weakening. Another effort and French territory will be free of them. It will be hard, however, for we shall have many victims.

"Our advance between Rheims and the Argonne seems to show the greater part of the German army in retreat by way of Belgium, West of the Meuse they are already making extensive defensive works on the Sambre."

GERMAN GENERAL SLAIN IN FRANCE

LONDON, Sept. 22, 7:12 p. m.—Telegraphing from Amsterdam, the correspondent of the Central News says it is reported there that General Steinmetz of the German artillery was killed in France, September 15.

Continuing, the correspondent says that reports from Liege declare that the Germans have brought the fortresses of Liege into such condition that they may again be used for defense.

VILLA TO REVOLT SOON AGAINST CARRANZA, BELIEF

Believe He Will Join His Forces With Governor Maytorena

TROOPS ON WAY

Expect Two Will Take Sonora From Gen. Benjamin Hill

NACO, Ariz., Sept. 23.—Serious developments seem to confirm the theory that General Villa is about to join with Governor Maytorena in open revolt against General Carranza, first chief of the Constitutionalists.

Five thousand of his troops from Juarez are reported on their way to join Maytorena's 2,000 soldiers in their march against General Benjamin Hill, who has refused to evacuate his strong position at Cananea and proceed to Chihuahua.

This order, issued by General Alvaro Obregon, is said to have been given under pressure from Villa when he was recently reported to have been placed under arrest at Chihuahua or else in his newly reported role as the ally of Villa revolting against Carranza.

Meantime, General Juan Cabral, sent from Mexico City to relieve Hill, consulted with Maytorena today at Nogales in an effort to get the governor to surrender his post to him, assuring him that in such event Hill and said that he would obey.

Hill, who was to have been succeeded by Cabral, doubted the order of Obregon to that effect and upon telegraphic inquiry to the minister of war at Mexico City, received a reply to hold Cananea by force of arms against Maytorena. Cabral also admitted today at Nogales that he had received orders to return at once to Mexico City by way of Laredo, Texas, an doubt that he would obey.

Hill is reported to have his forces near Santa Cruz, where it is expected the combined troops of Maytorena and Villa's Juarez contingent will meet him.

A strong force of Maytorena's Yaqui Indians are said to be on the way to join their chief's army.

Those in position to know here state that Villa, Maytorena and possibly Obregon will openly oppose Carranza when they have overthrown Hill, as their much superior forces cause them to believe will be in the next few days.

The state of Sonora, the scene of this prospective rebellion, was also the scene of the revolt in March, 1913, which started the revolution to overthrow Huerta.

Maderos Return.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 22.—Forty members of the Madero family, led by Francisco Madero, father of the late president of Mexico, today started back to their homes in Monterey, Mexico, whence they were driven by the revolution. The elder Madero said he had advices indicating the return of peace with the establishment of the Carranza government, and considered it safe to go back. The family traveled in a special car, which was booked through to Monterey by way of Laredo.

Manifesto Issued.

VERA CRUZ, Sept. 22.—A manifesto by General Candido Aguilar, governor of the state of Vera Cruz, which is intended to allay possible fears of the populace of reprisals by the Constitutionalists, was issued today. It says that only those whose guilt of offenses against the Constitutionalists is established will be punished.

Speaking for Aguilar, Colonel Edmundo Martinez said that not even the members of the clergy or nuns would be imprisoned unless they insisted on resuming their offices.

The decree says that cities of a population of 5,000 may have one priest, and those of more than 10,000 population three priests, but no more. It declares that no city will be permitted to harbor nuns and that they must seek employment.

BRITISH CAPTURE HAMBURG STEAMER

Cruiser Also Takes Two Colliers Bound for German Warships

LONDON, Sept. 22, 9:41 p. m.—The Hamburg-American line steamer Spreewald has been captured by the British cruiser Berwick in the North Atlantic ocean, according to an announcement by the admiralty tonight.

It was stated also that two colliers had been captured.

The Spreewald was fitted out as an armed cruiser. The two colliers carried 2,600 tons of coal and 130 tons of provisions for the German cruisers in Atlantic waters. The Berwick is commanded by Captain Lewis C. Baker.

The total number of German vessels, which, according to latest reports have been captured by British vessels at sea or by British port authorities, is 82. Ninety-five German vessels were detained in British ports at the outbreak of the war.

Seventy British vessels were held in German ports at the commencement of hostilities and since then, 12 British sea-going vessels out of the upwards of 4000 carrying an over-sea trade, have been captured and sunk at sea.

The Spreewald is a steamer of 2,214 tons. She was last reported as having sailed from Antwerp, July 12, for the West Indies, and to have arrived at St. Thomas, D. W. I., August 4.

CHURCHES ASKED TO RAISE MONEY FOR SUFFERING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—This appeal to the churches of the United States was issued tonight by the executive committee of the Red Cross:

"Our President, has by proclamation, designated Sunday, October 4, as a day of prayer for peace. It has been suggested in many quarters that on this Sunday a collection be taken up in every church to relieve suffering in the war-ravaged countries of Europe. The Red Cross, which is charged with the special duty of aiding the sick and wounded in time of war respectfully urges that opportunity be given in each church to every person who so desires, to make a contribution to be given to the American Red Cross, which is impartially aiding every country in a spirit of common humanity and which recognizes no distinction of race or nationality. However, every contributor who desires to designate any particular fund or country to which his or her contribution shall be applied, may do so, and such request will be respected."

SERVIANS OCCUPY BOSNIAN CAPITAL

Russians Take Strongly Fortified Position of Jaroslau

LONDON, Sept. 22, midnight.—The Rome correspondent of the Star says the Servian and Montenegrin troops have occupied Sarajevo, which was abandoned by the Austrians after an overwhelming defeat.

Sarajevo is the capital of Bosnia. It is a fortified town of some 27,000 inhabitants. It manufactures copper, brass and iron ware, and cotton goods and tobacco. It was here that Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir-apparent to the Austrian throne, and his wife, were assassinated shortly before Austria declared war on Servia.

Take Jaroslau.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 22, via London, 7:27 p. m.—Russian troops have occupied the fortified Austrian position of Jaroslau, according to official announcement made here today. The Russian flag is now flying over the town.

Jaroslau is an important railroad center. A bridge near the town crosses the San and commands the passage of that river. The town is located seventeen miles northwest of Przemysl and is on the railroad line between Lemberg and Cracow.

Austrians Flee.

NISH, Servia, Sept. 22, via London, 3:23 p. m.—The battle which has been progressing for several days near Krupinl, on the Drina river, has, according to official announcement, ended in complete disaster for the Austrian army.

The announcement declared that 160,000 Austrians were engaged in this encounter, while the Servian forces included various bodies of men who had been concentrated along the Drina, reinforced by troops hastily recalled from Semlin and Slavonia. The fighting was very sanguinary.

The Austrian attempt on Shabatz was repulsed with heavy loss.

Still Retreat.

PARIS, Sept. 22, 11:22 a. m.—In a dispatch from Nish, Servia, dated September 20, the correspondent of the Havas News Agency says the Austrians had been forced to retreat along the entire front between Lioubovia, Svornik and Losnitza, and that they were being hotly pursued by the Servians near Kouriatchza. The Servians destroyed the bridges over the river Drina, but after suffering heavy losses the Austrians gained the opposite bank.

The Austrian attempt, the correspondent continued, to cross the river Save between Mitrovitza and Skabats failed. In Bosnia yesterday the Servians occupied the heights west of Rogatnitza.

PLAN BIG FIGHT AGAINST WAR TAX

Republicans Say Democratic Extravagance and Tariff Failure Cause

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Early disposition in the House of the war revenue bill to raise approximately $105,000,000, was forcasted today when Majority Leader Underwood announced it would be brought up Thursday under a rule limiting debate to four hours.

Republican members will attack the measure along lines suggested today in a minority report filed by Representative Payne, protesting that there was "no occasion for panic, hasty or headlong action to heap heavier burdens upon the people. The Democrats were charged with extravagance and failure of the new tariff to meet expectations of its framers.

The majority report of the ways and means committee filed with the bill today declared that the new tariff laws and other sources of revenue would have yielded sufficient government revenue had it not been for the European war and consequent decrease in customs receipts.

Prospects for early passage of the bill when it reaches the Senate, administration leaders pointed out tonight, seemed to be more favorable, in view of the capitulation of the Democrats in the rivers and harbors fight. Republican senators, however, propose to debate it thoroughly, in order to make a record against the Democratic fiscal policy.

THREE CRUISERS BELONGING TO BRITISH ARE DESTROYED

Two German Submarines Sent to Bottom After Attack

MANY LIVES LOST

Only About One Third of Crews Are Saved, Say Reports

YMUIDEN, Holland, via London, Sept. 22, 11:26 p. m.—Two of five German submarine boats, which attacked and sank the British cruisers Aboukir, Cressy and Hogue, were sent to the bottom by the British ships, according to survivors from the cruisers, who arrived here this evening.

LONDON, Sept. 23, 12:10 p. m.—The destruction of the three cruisers, Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy, by an attack of five German submarines in the North Sea, was the severest loss the British navy has sustained during the war. British cruisers and torpedo boats came quickly to the assistance of the doomed vessels, and it is reported, sank two of the German submarines, while three others escaped.

The three cruisers carrried more than 2,000 men, but no estimate has yet been made of the number of saved or lost. The fate of the cruiser Pathfinder, sunk recently in the North sea by a torpedo, proved how quickly a ship may be sent to the bottom by an under-water attack, and it is therefore believed that the loss of life is bound to be heavy.

The steamer Flores took 287 survivors of the sunken ships into the Dutch port of Ymuiden last night. The steamer Titan picked up 114 men, one of whom afterwards died. Twenty of the wounded were kept on board the vessel, while the others of the wounded were transferred to British men of war. The Lowestoft, another British craft, rescued a good number.

The German policy of keeping the German battle fleet in harbor and attempting to pick off British ships, one by one, thus far has resulted in the loss of three 12,000 ton cruisers, the Pathfinder of 5,000 tons, and two small craft destroyed by mines.

Admiral Percy Scott's recent declaration that the submarine is the most important weapon in modern naval warfare, which caused much controversy, seems likely to be vindicated.

The warships Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy are cruisers of the same type. Their tonnage, armament, etc., are identical. These vessels had a displacement of 12,000 tons, were 440 feet long, 69.3 feet wide and drew 26 feet of water. Each one had a complement of 755 men, including officers and crew.

These three cruisers had armaments consisting of two 9.2-inch guns, twelve 6-inch guns, twelve 12-pounders and five 3-pounders. The Aboukir and the Cressy were built at Govan in 1900 and the Hogue was built at Barrow the same year.

700 Are Saved.

HARWISH, England, Sept. 23, via London, 1 a. m.—It is computed here that 700 men from the British cruisers Aboukir, Cressy and Hogue were saved.

Thirty uninjured officers, survivors of the three sunken warships arrived here tonight. They had been rescued from the water and wore improvised clothing.

Eighty survivors were landed at Parkeston quay, three miles west of Harwich.

Occurred at 7:30.

LONDON, Sept. 22, 6:57 p. m.—A despatch received here from the Hook of Holland says the Dutch steamer Titon has arrived there bringing twenty British wounded and some dead, picked up in the North Sea after the sinking of the British cruisers Aboukir, Hogue and Cressy.

The Titon reported that the disaster ocurred at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The Titon picked up 114 survivors most of whom were transferred to British torpedo boats.

AMSTERDAM, via London, Sept. 22, 11:21 p. m.—The steamer Flores arrived at Ymuiden tonight with 287 survivors from the British cruisers sunk by the German submarines. One dead and a few wounded were also aboard.

200 Ships in Sea.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—Two hundred British warships lie in battle line off the German naval base at Helgoland, so close that at times they appear to touch each other, according to Captain Skelley of the British oil tank steamer San Lorenzo, which reached New York today from London.

For six weeks the San Lorenzo was with his British fleet, her officers said, as supply ship for oil burning war craft. She took them 15,000 tons of fuel oil. The San Lorenzo was with the fleet during the engagement with the German cruisers behind Helgoland, but was not permitted to steam close enough to see the fighting.

Captain Kelley said a story was current among sailors of the fleet that Sir John R. Jellicoe was aboard the submarine which sank the German cruiser Hela recently. As to this, however, he had no knowledge further than the tale of the bluejackets.

Outside the Ambrose channel lightship, at the entrance of New York harbor, Captain Skelly said there were two British cruisers and a Cunard liner, converted into an auxiliary cruiser.

Unknown Boat Sunk.

LOWESTOFT, England, Sept. 22, via London, 3:30 p. m.—It is reported that a vessel of 12,000 tons has been sunk by a mine in the North Sea. Another large vessel is standing by.

No official confirmation of the report can be obtained.

BRITISH COMMANDER GIVES DESCRIPTION OF BATTLE NOW ON

Tells of Movements Up to September 18; This May Not Be Germans' Main Stand

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(9:35 p. m.)—The following descriptive account from Field Marshal John French's headquarters of the British army's operations up to September 18 was issued tonight:

"General Headquarters, 18th September, 1914.

"At the date of the last narrative, September 14, the Germans were making a determined resistance along the river Aisne. Opposition, which it was at first though might possibly be of a rear-guard nature, not entailing material delay to our progress, has developed and has proved to be more serious than was anticipated.

"The action now being fought by the Germans along their line, may, it is true, have been undertaken in order to gain time for some strategic operation or move, and may not be their main stand. But if this is so, the fighting is naturally on a scale which as to what extent of ground covered and duration of resistance makes it indistinguishable in its progress from what is known as a 'pitched battle,' though the enemy certainly showed signs of considerable disorganization during the earlier days of their retirement phase.

"Whether it was originally intended by them to defend the position they took up as strenuously as they have done, or whether the delay gained for them during the twelfth and thirteenth by the artillery has enabled them to develop their resistance and reinforce their line to an extent not originally contemplated, cannot yet be said.

Progress of Armies

"So far as we are concerned, the action still being contested is the battle of the Aisne. The foe we are fighting is just across that river along the whole of our front to the east and west. The struggle is not confined to the valley of that river, though it probably will bear its name.

"The progress of our operations and the French armies nearest us for the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th, will now be described:

"On Monday, the 14th, those of our troops which had on the previous day crossed the Aisne, after driving in the German rear-guards on that evening, found portions of the enemy's forces in prepared defensive positions on the right bank and could do little more than to secure a footing north of the river. This, however, they maintained in spite of two counter attacks delivered at dusk and 10 p. m., in which the fighting was severe.

"During the fourteenth strong reinforcements of our troops were passed to the north bank, the troops crossing by ferry, by pontoon bridge and by the remains of permanent bridges. Close cooperation with the French forces was maintained and the general progress made was good, although the opposition was vigorous and the state of the roads after the heavy rain made movements slow. One division alone failed to secure the ground it expected to.

Take 600 Prisoners

"The First Army Corps, after repulsing repeated attacks, captured 600 prisoners and twelve guns. The cavalry also took a number of prisoners. Many of the Germans were taken along to the reserve and landwehr formations, which fact appears to indicate that the enemy is compelled to draw on other classes of soldiers to fill gaps in his ranks.

"There was a heavy rain throughout the night of September 14-15 and during the 15th, the situation of the British forces underwent no essential change. But it became more and more evident that the defensive preparations made by the enemy were more extensive than at first apparent.

"In order to counterbalance these, measures were taken by us to economize our troops and to secure protection from the hostile artillery fire, which was very fierce, and our men continued to improve their own entrenchments. The Germans bombarded our lines nearly all day, using heavy guns brought, no doubt, from before Maubeuge, as well as those with the corps.

Counter Attacks Fail

"All their counter attacks, however, failed, although in some places they were repeated six times. One made on the Fourth Guards brigade was repulsed with heavy slaughter.

"An attempt to advance slightly made by the part of our line was unsuccessful as regards gain of ground, but led to the withdrawal of part of the enemy's infantry and artillery.

"Further counter attacks made during the night were beaten off. Rain came on towards evening and continued intermittently until 9 a. m., on the 16th. Besides adding to the discomfort of soldiers holding the line, the weather to some extent hampered the motor transport service, which was also hindered by broken bridges.

"On Wednesday, the 16th, there was little change in the situation opposite the British; the efforts made by the enemy were less active than on the previous day, though their bombardment continued throughout the morning and evening. Forty prisoners were taken by the Third division.

"On Thursday, the 17th, the situation still continued unchanged in its essentials. The German heavy artillery fire was more active than on the previous day. The only infantry attacks made by the enemy were on the extreme right of our position, and, as had happened before, were repulsed with heavy loss, chiefly on this occasion by our field artillery.

Driven Up Hill

"In order to convey some idea of the nature of the fighting, it may be said that along the greater part of our front the Germans have been driven back from the forward slopes on the north of the river.

Their infantry are holding strong lines of trenches amongst and along the edges of the numerous woods which crown the slopes. These trenches are elaborately constructed and cleverly concealed. In many places there are wire entanglements and lengths of rabbit fencing.

"Both woods and open are carefully aligned, so that they can be swept by rifle fire and machine guns which are invisible from our side of the valley. The ground in front of the infantry trenches is also, as a rule, under cross-fire from the field artillery placed on neighboring ridges and under high-angle fire from pieces placed well back behind the woods on top of the plateau.

"A feature of this action, as of the previous fighting, is the use by the enemy of their numerous heavy Howitzers, with which they are able to direct long range fire all over the valley and right across it. Upon these they evidently place great reliance.

"Where our men are holding the forward edges of the high ground on the north side, they are now strongly entrenched. They are well fed and in spite of the wet weather of the past week, are cheerful and confident.

Bombardment Heavy.

"The bombardment on both sides has been very heavy and on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday was practically continuous. Nevertheless, in spite of the general din caused by the reports of the immense number of heavy guns in action along our front on Wednesday, the arrival of the French force acting against the German right flank was at once announced on the east of our front some miles away by the continuous roar of the quick-firing artillery with which the attack was opened.

"So far as the British are concerned, the greater part of this week has been passed in bombardment, in gaining ground by degrees, and in beating back severe counter-attacks with heavy slaughter. Our casualties have been severe, but it is probable that those of the enemy are heavier.

"The rain has caused a great drop in the temperature and there is more than a distant feeling of autumn in the air, especially in the early morning.

"On our right and left, the French have been fighting fiercely, and have also been gradually gaining ground. One village already during this battle has been captured and re-captured twice by each side and at the time of writing, remains in the hands of the Germans.

"The fighting has been at close quarters and of the most desperate nature, and the streets of the village are filled with dead of both sides.

Spirit of Allies Good.

"As an example of the spirit which is inspiring our allies, the following translation of an Ordre du Jour, pub-

JOHNSON IGNORES CURTIN IN FIGHT

Declares He Is Merely Stalking Horse for Fredericks

(Special to the Republican.)

TURLOCK, Sept. 22.—Putting aside John R. Curtin as the "stalking-horse" for John D. Fredericks, Governor Johnson said tonight that he would pay no attention in this campaign to the Democratic candidate for governor, who was indulging in wild and reckless mis-statements.

Fifteen hundred people jammed the high school gymnasium in such a dense mass that not another person could enter. Some twenty men perched themselves on the low rafters, while 200 people clustered outside listening through the raised canvas sides of the building.

H. C. Hoskins presided, introducing the governor, who after a few remarks made the first statement of the campaign concerning Curtin. The governor said:

"I shall pay no attention to the Democratic candidate for governor in this campaign, for he is merely the stalking-horse for the Republican candidate for governor. You Democrats may as well learn that now as later in the campaign. He and his Republican colleague are acting in conjunction, one making the wildest and most reckless mis-statements which are given the widest publicity by that kind of newspapers which are supporting both men.

The other preens and plumes himself, telling how he will conduct a gentlemanly campaign, but his directors, manipulators, managers and masters, the Los Angeles Times, the San Francisco Chronicle and the San Deigo Union have begun the most abusive and vituperative campaign ever seen in, this or any other state. It is unnecessary that such abuse should be indulged in. I shall not do it nor do I see any necessity that it should be done.

We stand upon the record of the past four years and upon that alone we ask to be judged.

The governor delivered three afternoon speeches, talking first at 1 o'clock to several hundred people from the steps of the hotel at Patterson. He talked an hour later to a good sized crowd at Crows Landing, winding up the afternoon with a large meeting in the hall at Newman.

BRITISH COMMANDER GIVES DESCRIPTION OF BATTLE NOW ON

lished on September 9, after the battle of Montmirail, by the commander of the French fifth army, is given:

"Soldiers: Upon the memorable fields of Montmirail, of Vauchamps, of Champaubert, which a century ago witnessed the victories of our ancestors over Blucher's Prussians, your vigorous offensive has triumphed over the resistance of the Germans. Held on his flanks, his center broken, the enemy is now retreating towards the east and north by forced marches. The most renowned army corps of Old Prussia, the contingents of Westphalia, of Hanover, of Brandenburg have retired in haste before you."

"This first success is no more than a prelude. The enemy is shaken but not decisively beaten. You have still to undergo severe hardships, to make long marches, to fight hard battles. May the image of our country, soiled by barbarians, always remain before your eyes! Never was it more necessary to sacrifice all for her.

"Saluting the heroes who have fallen in the fighting of the last few days, my thoughts turn toward you, the victors in the next battle. Forward, soldiers for France!

"Montmirail, 9th September, 1914.

"General Commanding the Fifth Army,

"Franchet d'Esperey.'

Formidable Enemy,

"The Germans are a formidable enemy, well-trained, long-prepared and brave. Their soldiers are carrying on the contest with skill and valor. Nevertheless, they are fighting to win anyhow, regardless of all the rules of fair play and there is evidence that they do not hesitate at anything in order to gain victory.

"A large number of the tales of the misbehaviors are exaggeration, and some of the stringent precautions they have taken to guard themselves against the inhabitants of the areas traversed, are possibly justifiable measures of war. But at the same time, it has been definitely established that they have committed atrocities on many occasions, and they have been guilty of brutal conduct."

Hyomei the Great Catarrh Remedy. "Just Breathe It" and Be Cured

Do not try to cure catarrh, head colds, or snuffles by taking drugs into the stomach that can do little more than upset the digestion. These common but dangerous diseases, that often cause the loss of hearing and the sense of smell and taste, cannot be cured that way. The commonsense way is to breathe Hyomei, which gets the medication right where it is needed to heal the raw and inflamed lining of the air passages, kill the germs and restore the diseased tissue to a perfectly healthy condition.

Hyomei is a mixture of antiseptic and germicidal oils that you breathe through a small inhaler. No bother; no disagreeable medicine to swallow; simply use the inhaler a few times daily and the health-giving medication of Hyomei will quickly soothe and heal the irritated tissues—stop distressing choking and unclean discharges of the nose—you breathe freely—dull headaches cease, and every catarrhal symptom soon vanishes.

Druggists everywhere sell the Hyomei complete outfit that contains inhaler and bottle of medicine. There is nothing more economical, simple and pleasant to use, or that gives such rapid and lasting benefit as Hyomei—and perfectly harmless. San Joaquin Drug Co. sells it on the "No-cure-no-pay" plan.

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The Easiest and Best Way Is to Dissolve It

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. If not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

DESTROY GERMAN WIRELESS PLANT

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(11:22 a. m.)—The destruction of the wireless station on the island of Nauru, removing the last German stationary wireless apparatus in the Pacific, is reported today from Sydney, New South Wales.

The British flag now flies over the island, though the German governor and his staff have been allowed to remain.

Scattered fighting has taken place at Rabaul, on Neupommoln, an island in the Bismarck archipelago. The natives under German leaders proved very troublesome, but the Australian landing party took to cover cleverly and suffered no losses, and after a skirmish Rabaul practically surrendered.

Dr. Puckley, a member of the Australian Red Cross department, was shot by a German officer after he had removed his coat with the Red Cross band on the sleeve, to cover a wounded man.

ENGLISH REPORT MORE CASUALTIES

LONDON, Sept. 22, 10:30 p. m.—The official press bureau tonight issued a casualty list under date of September 17, which shows 28 officers killed, 46 wounded and 14 missing. Three officers previously reported as missing have returned to their commands. Of other ranks, 160 wounded and 202 missing are reported.

The list contains the names of no prominent men, but shows that the Ninth Lancers, the Dorsetshire regiment, the Eighteenth Hussars and the Royal Engineers have been in the thick of the fighting, for the list of men wounded and missing is made up almost entirely of members of those regiments.

The Royal Irish Rifles lost two officers killed and eight wounded. Lieutenant C. G. Bayley and Second Lieutenant V. Waterfall of the Royal Flying corps, are unofficially reported dead.

ENGLISH QUEEN VISITS BELGIANS

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(6:05 p. m.)—Queen Mary, accompanied by the Belgian minister to Great Britain and several of her ladies, visited the Belgian refugees in Alexandra palace this afternoon. Her majesty was very much interested in these unfortunate people and gave expressions of her sympathy. As she entered the dining hall where a new batch of refugees had just arrived she was greeted by a wild outburst of cheering.

ULTIMATUM GIVEN MARCONI COMPANY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Secretary Daniels said today that he would give the Marconi Company until tomorrow to give assurances that it would observe the naval neutrality regulations in the operation of the Sisseonset, Mass., wireless station. Mr. Daniels on Saturday served notice that unless he received a prompt assurance that the company would observe the department's rules, he would order the Sisseonset station closed to all communication.

TO SAVE EYES

Is the Object of This Free Prescription—Try It If Your Eyes Give You Trouble

Thousands of people suffer from eye troubles because they do not know what to do. They know some good home remedy for every other minor ailment, but none for their eye troubles. They neglect their eyes, because the trouble is not sufficient to drive them to an eye specialist, who would, anyway, charge them a heavy fee. As a last resort they go to an optician, or to the five and ten-cent store, and oftentimes get glasses that they do not need, or which, after being used two or three months, do their eyes more injury than good. Here is a simple prescription that every one should use:

5 grains Optona (1 tablet).

2 ounces Water.

Use three or four times a day to bathe the eyes. This prescription and the simple Optona system keeps the eyes clean, sharpens the vision and quickly overcomes inflammation and irritation; weak, watery, overworked, tired eyes and other similar troubles are greatly benefited and oftentimes cured by its use. Many reports show that wearers of glasses have discarded them after a few weeks' use. It is good for the eyes and contains no ingredient which would injure the most sensitive eyes of an infant or the aged. Any druggist can fill this prescription promptly. Try it and know for once what real eye comfort is.

SHAME CAUSES MAN TO KILL WIFE AND SELF

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Rather than face a shameful charge in police court, John Murpheson, formerly of Seattle, but latterly proprietor of a billiard hall in this city, killed his wife Dora today in a down-town hotel and then committed suicide with the same revolver.

They had quarreled frequently and from their charges and counter charges it came out that the woman was formerly the wife of a Doctor Processer, who was shot in 1910, while traveling through Montana on a train. Tried for murder she was acquitted. Murpheson brought up the old story, when he complained to the police that she had threatened him with a revolver, and that he was afraid of his life.

In the end, however, their tragedy seems to have eventuated the other way around. When detectives broke in the door of their bedroom, the husband was found lying across the bed, a revolver tightly clinched in one hand. At his feet on the floor lay his wife, still breathing, but mortally wounded. She died soon after. Both were fully dressed.

Murpheson was to have appeared before Judge Crist this morning to answer a charge of pandering brought against him by his wife, in one of their quarrels.

ODD FELLOWS ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 22.—In one of the most spirited contests of its history, the sovereign grand lodge of Odd Fellows tonight elected J. R. A. Robertson of Oklahoma, deputy grand sire with F. C. Gowdy of Colorado, and Joseph Oliver of Ontario, giving him a close race until the last ballot. Robert Daniel of Georgia was elected grand sire; John B. Goodwin, Maryland, grand secretary, and Colonel M. Richard Muckle, Philadelphia, grand treasurer.

San Francisco was chosen as next year's convention city.

The convention adopted a report of the judiciary committee reversing the decision of Grand Sire Keller permitting lodges to impose a special assessment for other than fraternal purposes. The issue was raised in the case of a western lodge which provided a relief fund for flood victims by assessing its members.

W. C. Elto of Pittsburg was elected president of the representatives of Odd Fellows' Homes association.

GASOLINE SHORTAGE STOPS ARCTIC TRIP

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 22. — The fifteen-ton wooden gasoline schooner, Teddy Bear, Captain Joe Bernard, which left Nome on a hunting, trapping and trading expedition in 1909; which skirted the Arctic coast of Canada further eastward than any other ship had ever gone, and which might have accomplished the northwest passage and reached Hudson Bay but for a shortage of gasoline, arrived here today. The little boat had sailed 1600 miles since August 4, unable to use her engine because there was no fuel aboard.

Bernard, with John Sandstrom and an Eskimo crew, left Nome well supplied with goods for trading among the Eskimos, and refused to return until he had exhausted these goods. In the winter of 1910 Sandstrom was frozen to death in a blizzard on Barter Island, while he was on his way to an Eskimo village.

ATTACKS PROPOSED LAND LEASE SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Opening of debate in the Senate today on the bill to provide for leasing of government coal lands in Alaska was marked by a vigorous attack on the measure by Senator Shafroth. The Colorado senator declared such legislation threatened the very existence of popular government.

"The question at stake here," he said, "is whether we are to lose our individual right to ownership of property, a principle which has existed since the foundation of the government or become tenants of the government."

The framers of the constitution, Senator Shafroth asserted, never contemplated that the government should have the right to lease property to its people, nor did the states which ratified the constitution, ever contemplate such a thing.

Senator Pittman of Nevada, chairman of the territories committee, appealed for support of the bill.

HERBERT KNOX SMITH TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 22.—The Progressive party in the recent state primary, it was announced from headquarters here today, nominated for United States senator, Herbert Knox Smith of Hartford, and for governor, William C. Fisher of Middletown.

Smith is a former United States commissioner of corporations. He was the party's candidate for governor two years ago.

FRENCH LAD IS HERO OF BATTLE

BORDEAUX, France, Sept. 22, —(3:15 p. m.)—An undersized boy of 15 years named Jacques Jesegal arrived at Bogleaux today with a convoy of French wounded soldiers. He attached himself to a French infantry regiment at Asticos and kept with it through many battles, making himself useful in helping the wounded and in catching riderless horses amidst a storm of shot and shell.

The youth particularly distinguished himself in the Battle of the Marne, where he saved the lives of several wounded troopers.

BRITISH STEAMER SINKS; 22 LOST

TREBISOND, Asia Minor, Sept. 22, via London.—(11:07 a. m.)—Twenty-two persons lost their lives by drowning as the result of the sinking of the British steamer Belgian King, near Cape Kurell yesterday.

The Belgian King carried 126 passengers and crew. Ninety-eight of them were saved by a Russian steamer.

It is surmised that this accident was due to a mine, but the real cause has not been revealed.

224 DELAYED TOURISTS ARRIVE IN NEW YORK

Thank Netherlands Government for Protection Given

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—The steamship Minnewaska of the Atlantic Transport line, arrived here tonight bringing home from London 224 delayed tourists. Captain Thomas Gates, commander of the ship, said no warship was sighted until the British war vessels off Ambrose lightship were met.

The steamship Zeeland from Liverpool and the Principello from Rotterdam both reached Quarantine tonight and will dock tomorrow. The Principello has aboard 623 passengers, 470 of whom are Americans. On the Zeeland are 363 passengers, of whom 331 are Americans.

Passengers on the Nieuw Amsterdam from Rotterdam, which arrived today, met before the steamer docked and adopted a resolution expressing gratitude to The Netherlands 'government, "for its aid and protection, both on land and on sea." An open letter to the President of the United States, signed by 737 American citizens on the ship, representing thirty-six states, also was given out. This letter said in part:

"We, the undersigned citizens of the United States, returning from Germany, and believing from cables, letters and newspapers received by us that there is in America a widespread opinion that Americans have been recorded ill-treatment in Germany, beg leave to present to the President of the United States the following statement:

"We, who have been in Germany during July, August and a part of September, have been accorded every courtesy and every care. When England's declaration of war tended to render people suspicious of those who spoke English, the newspapers systematically urged everyone to be kind to Americans. In truth, the attitude of all Germany, throughout this whole situation, has been one of serious consideration for the safety and comfort of all strangers within her gates."

New Skin Peeler In Great Demand

Since the discovery that mercolized wax possesses remarkable absorbent powers when applied to the skin, the demand for it as a complexion renewer has been tremendous. Druggists in every section report sales so far exceeding those of anything similar they have ever had on their shelves.

Ordinary mercolized wax, according to Prof. Hoffman, gently peels off the devitalized cuticle, in minute particles, so that the user gradually loses her old worn-out complexion, the more youthful under-skin taking its place. Cutaneous eruptions, blotches, moth patches, tan and freckles are of course removed at the same time. As the wax is entirely harmless, and easy to use, women all over the country are purchasing it in original packages and using it to quickly rejuvenate their complexions. The wax is applied to the face, neck or hands the same as cold cream, allowed to remain over night, then washed off with warm water.—National Drug Review.

WATERWAYS BILL PASSES SENATE

Provides for $20,000,000 for Propects Now Under Way

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. — Prompt passage by the Senate today of a substitute measure, providing $20,000,000 to be expended by the army engineers on existing projects, finally ended the long filibuster against the river and harbor appropriation bill, which originally carried $53,000,000 The bill now goes to the House, where it is expected to precipitate another vigorous fight.

When the commerce committee, under the Senate's instructions, brought in the substitute today, no show of opposition was offered and the measure passed without a record vote.

Senator Simmons who led the long fight against the filibuster, made a lengthy speech just before the vote. He defended the original measure and discussed at length the theory of waterway improvement and the policy heretofore pursued. He declared, however, that the theory of controlling railroad rates by waterway improvement would not work out until the railroads were prevented from meeting competitive water rates and making up their losses by raising their rates on non-competitive routes.

A tribute to Senator Burton and the other opponents of the bill, who conducted the successful filibuster, was paid by Senator Stone of Missouri, who declared, however, that despite the defeat of the bill, the sentiment of the country was overwhelmingly in favor of liberal waterway improvement.

40,000 CANADIANS TO GO TO FRONT

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 22.—It is understood that by January Canada will have abroad, either on the fighting line or in England, upwards of 40,000 men. The 31,000 to be sent from Valcartier probably will go to a depot in England, from which they will be sent to the front when thoroughly efficient. Recruits to fill up gaps in the ranks caused by casualties and sickness will be sent from Canada from time to time, probably bringing the total to 41,000 by January 1.

Pennington, Cal.—"A few months ago I was poisoned. It came on my hands first in a rash and in two days it had spread all over my hands and face. I could not sleep at night. The eruption caused disfigurement. I was unable to do my work at all, it pained me so.

"I tried medicine but it did not help me. I had been about four weeks since I got poisoned when a friend asked me why I didn't try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for some right away and began using them following directions. ENRAGED BULL GORES EIGHTEEN GERMAN TROOPS

PARIS, Sept. 22, 7:10 a. m. — The Petit Parisienne prints a story of a bull which it says gored eighteen Germans. It appears that when the peasants in the neighborhood of Sezanne were warned of the approach of the Germans, they opened the gates of the cattle pens also endeavored to drive the cattle to a place of safety. One enormous bull, it is said, becoming enraged by the sound of the cannon fire, broke away and charged the Germans, who looked on in stupefication believing it some trick of the French. At the first dash the bull gored six, throwing them high in the air. Others shot and wounded the animal, which, however, gored twelve more before succumbing.

SAYS EUROPEAN CREDIT SYSTEM NOT SUITABLE

Bankers Declare That Conditions Here Are Not Same

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 22. — Application of European systems offers no solution of the United States rural credit problem, Representative H. W. Summers of Texas declared today at the opening session of the American Institute of Banking, because of different conditions in the old world and America. He asserted an entirely different system must be devised.

That the time rapidly is approaching when the food supply of this country would not meet the demand, was another claim made by the Texas legislator, who placed the blame for this largely on the fact that rural conditions do not hold the young farmer to the soil. Lack of financial aid to place farming on a plane with other industries was given as another factor.

COMPETITTON WOULD IMPROVE R. R. SERVICE

So Says Rock Island Man in Suit Against S. P. Company

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—More competition between the railroads would result in better service to the public, in the opinion of Thomas M. Schumacher, chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad. Mr. Schumacher expressed this belief today at the second days' hearing in the suit of the government to compel the Southern Pacific company to give up its control of the Central Pacific railway and subsidiary lines.

He explained at length the division of freight territories in the United States and testified that he believed the Southern Pacific was the strongest freight carrying road to the Pacific coast. He stated also that prior to 1901, the relations between the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific railroads were friendly, and that he believed traffic arrangements at that time were satisfactory to the lines.

Chinese Are Ill Treated By Japs Says Missionary

PEKING, Sept. 22.—The correspondent here of the Associated Press has received a letter from Charles A. Leonard of the American Southern Baptist mission at Lai Chow, Shan Tung province, in which Chinese reports of ill treatment of the local inhabitants by Japanese troops in the country are repeated.

Leonard relates the passage of the western section of the Japanese army, which he says was about five thousand strong, composed of cavalry, infantry and artillery, and which went through Lai Chow. The advance guard of the cavalry did not molest the Chinese populated and compensated them for what provender they took. But when the larger detachment arrived torrential rains were falling.

For this reason the Japanese did not pitch their tents, but entered the best Chinese homes and compelled local merchants and other Chinese to work for them. In many cases they dried their wet clothes by making fires of the furniture in the middle of the room. The men fed their horses on the ripening crops and the soldiers killed cattle and chickens for their own use, frequently with inadequate or no compensation.

Leonard declares that the Chinese women, terrorized, deserted their homes. Five, he said, committed suicide, either to escape attack by the Japanese or after they had been so attacked.

The various Japanese proclamations posted in the war zone, declaring friendship for the Chinese people and republic, explain the necessity of terminating Germany's military and naval activities in the Orient and exhort the people to continue their vocations unalarmed.

"But any one daring to interfere with our troops will immediately be arrested and punished without mercy," these proclamations continued. "All boats, carts, cattle, horses, fuel, grain and meat required must immediately be supplied to our army, which will compensate for these goods at equitable valuations."

Leonard said that military notes are being issued as in the Russo-Japanese war, and that the redemption of these notes began at Lung Kow, September 4.

"If the people were compensated, it would not be so bad," Leonard wrote, "but although I made many inquiries, I was unable to learn of compensation for chickens, grain and food obtained in Chinese homes; for fuel and furniture burned or for the occupation of houses."

Leonard said that similar stories came from the surrounding countryside.

OPPOSE RE-HIRING OF ALL STRIKERS

Mine Company Officials Want to Bar Those Who Did Violence

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 22.—The Colorado Fuel and Iron company, in a letter to President Wilson, made public tonight, expressed unwillingness to re-employ all strikers who have not been convicted of crime, as suggested in the three-year truce proposal, prepared by Hywell Davies and William Fairley, mediators appointed by the secretary of labor in an effort to end the Colorado coal miners strike.

The corporation also objected to final adjudication of disputes by a federal grievance commission in the manner suggested by the mediators. The letter was signed by J. F. Welborn, president of the company, who is to discuss the strike problem with President Wilson at Washington tomorrow.

At a conference held at Trinidad last week, the union coal miners of Colorado accepted the truce plan without amendment, and notified President Wilson that they were ready to call off the strike and go to work as soon as the proposal should have been accepted by the mine workers.

Reply To President

The letter signed by Wellborn was the individual reply of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company to the letter from President Wilson, urging adoption of the truce plan. The other operators in the state, it was announced, would unite in a separate letter which would be sent to the President by mail. The Colorado Fuel and Iron company expressed approval of certain features of the proposed truce, but decided disapproval of other provisions. The corporation, in its letter, maintained that its first obligation was to its present employes, many of whom would have to be discharged if all the strikers who have not been convicted of crime should be re-employed.

Mr. Wellborn, to President Wilson, says in part:

"Owing to the depressed state of the steel industry, we feel that we should offer work available at our mines to such of our iron and steel workers as might be thrown out of employment because of reduced production. Indeed, we are now faced with the possibility that through having to curtail our steel production, with the consequent effect upon coal and coke operations, work will not be available for all the miners even now employed.

"You will understand, too, that a great deal of ill-feeling has been engendered between some of the men who quit and those who have remained at or returned to work. We are very sure you would not urge that we reinstate former employes who, although not actually found guilty of violating the laws, have to our knowledge given overt actions toward our men. The inside of a coal mine is at best attended with hazards not common to other operations. It is, therefore, particularly a place where we should not assign men peacefully inclined to work alongside men who have been instructed to accomplish their ends, if necessary, by violent means and who are now restrained by nothing more than an agreement by their leaders to suspend hostilities.

"We are prepared to re-employ upon work which may be available, any man who, so far as we know, has not shared in the responsibility for acts of violence or overt hostility. In fact, we are daily taking back such men into our service. Our company bears no ill-will towards those, the limit of whose offending was that they left its employ. Our desire is to make our terms of employment so attractive that we can obtain at all times the very best class of workmen.

"But our paramount and immediate responsibility must be to the men still at work, men who for nearly a year have labored under most trying difficulties. For thirty years past, this company has assured its every employe that its mines are "open shops," where any good workman might obtain employment irrespective of whether he was a union or non-union man."

MYSTERIOUS WIRELESS IS SOUGHT ON COAST

Said to Be in Mountains and Talking With German Warship

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—On complaint of the British embassy the Department of Agriculture has begun a search for a mysterious wireless plant supposed to be operating in the mountains on the Pacific Coast. Information furnished to the department is vague, but apparently the plant is busily engaged in sending messages uncensored by the federal government.

Forest rangers who patrol the mountains are understood to have received orders to look for the wireless outfit.

Search Starts.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 22.—At the request of Thomas Arskine, British consul in Portland, a search was started in Oregon by the Department of Agriculture, to locate an alleged German wireless station hidden in the Coast mountains, according to E. A. Johnson, assistant United States district attorney here. The British consul recently received an anonymous letter saying that wireless antennae was rigged on pine poles at an unlocated spot near the coast and that the station was in communication of German warships.

Origin of Report.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 22.—The report that a wireless plant was in operation somewhere in the Puget Sound country and was communicating with the German cruiser Leipzig, organized in British Columbia a month ago, when a rumor was also current that the cruiser planned a descent upon Prince Rupert, B. C. It was reported further that steamers leaving Seattle with coal were planning a delivery to the Leipzig at sea.

Investigation by naval officers of the United States proved that the coal was for legitimate destination and that there was no wireless plant conveying unlawful messages. Afterward it was learned by the British authorities that the Leipzig, after coming north as far as Cape Mendocino, had altered her course and had never entered the north Pacific.

Los Angeles county, between Castaic school and section 17 to Mahoney Brothers of San Francisco, $123,158.10.

Roads in Napa from Cameronros creek to a point south of the Stanley road, and in Glenn county from the southerly boundary to Willows, will be constructed by day labor under the supervision of the engineering department, all bids having been rejected.

Other contracts were awarded by the board as follows:

FIND TWO NEW CASES OF BUBONIC PLAGUE

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22.—Two new cases of bubonic plague were discovered here today. One of the victims, John J. Vath, was found dead. The other, Clarice Alexander, a negress, 40 years old, still lives. For ten days there have been no cases here.

Vath, who was a baker, died before the physician who attended him suspected he was afflicted with the plague. While health officers say there is no danger of infection from goods Vath may have sold while he was suffering with the plague, his shop has been closed temporarily. The Bourbon street section, from which the cases came today, is not a new focus of infection, but no new cases had developed there recently.

ENGLISH GIRLS ARE HOME FROM BERLIN

Express Sympathy for Germans; Students and Governesses

LONDON, Sept. 22, 11:08 p. m.—One of the strangest throngs ever seen in London—English women and girls with pro-German sympathies—came into the city tonight from Berlin in charge of Lieutenant E. G. Blakeslee, U. S. N., assistant naval attache at Berlin.

The party numbered 440 and figured in an exchange with German women and girls who had been allowed to leave England. Under Lieutenant Blakeslee's care, the members of the party were assembled in Berlin from various parts of Germany with the assistance of the American consuls. Their pro-German feeling is accounted for by the fact that while interned in the German empire, they heard only one side of the war question. Art and music students and governesses predominated. The party left Berlin in a special train and all said they had been shown every courtesy by the German officials. A great crowd of parents and relatives greeted the returning travelers on their arrival here.

Another party of English women and girls of about the same number, will leave Berlin at an early date under the care of an attache of the American embassy.

NAVAL OFFICER SAVES MEXICAN FUGITIVES

VERA CRUZ, Sept. 22. — Captain Christy of the United States scout cruiser Salem yesterday prevented prevented sixteen Mexicans political fugitives falling into the hands of the Constitutionalists at Progreso. The fugitives were passengers on the Ward line steamer Esperanza, bound for New York.

Fearing an attempt would be made to remove the Mexicans, in spite of the fact that the Esperanza cleared from Vera Cruz, which is temporarily an American port, and was scheduled to touch at Progreso only incidentally, Rear Admiral Beatty sent the Salem to convoy the liner.

Mexicans appeared alongside the Esperanza soon after she came to anchor in Progreso, and her captain signalled the Salem. The Esperanza and the Salem then moved together. The Salem took the fugitives aboard and sailed away with them, bound for Havana.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON

It goes without saying that Governor Johnson will be received with enthusiastic meetings in his trip through Fresno county today and for his speech in the auditorium in Fresno city tonight. Fresno is very loyal to Governor Johnson, as it was already loyal to the principle for which he stands and to the movement of which his administration is the culmination, long before this movement had become an organized one in the state.

This campaign of Governor Johnson is practically a test whether or not such services as Governor Johnson has rendered to California are permanently possible in a popularly governed state. It is not necessary to Governor Johnson that he be re-elected; but it is necessary to California that it hand down to all the future the precedent that such services as Governor Johnson has rendered to the state will be vindicated and not repudiated when submitted to the people of the state. These services are so great that the have inaugurated a new era in the history of this state and a new example to all the states. It is a short memory which does not recall the conditions from which, which, through this administration, California has emerged, and it would be a dull perception which could not understand the enormous difference between those conditions and the ones which now prevail. The difference is as great as between light and darkness, between fresh mountain air and the vapors of some underground dungeon. California voted for this change and has twice voted to sustain its policies. It is now to determine whether it is proud or ashamed of that course.

NAVAL WAR BEGINS

The reported sinking of the two British cruisers by German submarine boats is evidently the beginning of the sea part of the present war. Hitherto the German navy has for the most part been in hiding, and the British navy has confined itself to preventing the escape of German vessels. The numerical inferiority of the German navy in vessels of the orthodox type is so great that it has been evident from the beginning that the German navy must either find some new method of fighting or be hopelessly outclassed in the old method of fighting. If submarines and aircraft have really revolutionized naval war, then there may be some hope for Germany on the sea. If they have not done so, then the German navy might as well not exist.

George Bernard Shaw is reported to have said that he would as soon go to sea in St. Paul's cathedral as in a modern naval dreadnaught. This war will determine, and the next few days may largely determine, whether the critics of mere size in the naval vessel have been right or wrong. If they were wrong, then Brittania will continue to rule the wave; if they were right, then there will cease to be any such thing as supremacy of the seas.

If that were to happen it might not be so bad a thing for the world after all, since it would thereby compel the neutralization of all the seas and their commerce, even in time of war. The international policing necessary to enforce this neutrality would be an insignificant burden as compared with the present burden of naval armament. Naval vessels now are obsolete before they are built, because in the meantime some one will have invented a better type. But as against anything except other war vessels, the most obsolete naval vessel is invincible. Swift, moderately armored cruisers of any type could police the seas and they would remain effective as long as their machinery could propel them. They would be invincible against anything except submarine and aerial attack, and both of these could be forbidden as a form of international piracy.

This is a dream of the future, as it may be in case the wasps and hornets of the sea prove effective against its leviathans. On the other hand, if the floating fortress establishes itself in this war as the most formidable type of naval vessel, the decrease of naval armaments will still be a long way in the future.

ELECTED ALREADY

The tabulation of returns from the primary election shows some remarkable results. For instance, it shows that Governor Johnson received at the election more votes than both his present opponents combined. Johnson received on all tickets 142,736 votes, while Fredericks and Curtin combined received in all 138,765. Of these, Fredericks received 110,940 and Curtin 27,765. This result was achieved in the face of the fact that Johnson had no contest for the Progressive nomination and did not undertake to secure either the Republican or the Democratic nomination.

The votes for other Progressive candidates who did aspire to additional nominations show even more interesting figures. The name of John Eshleman for lieutenant-governor, for instance, appeared only on the Progressive and Republican ballots, and he received consequently comparatively few votes on the Democratic ballot. The telegraphed tabulations of the returns, in fact, does not give any account of such votes as he may have received by writing in on the Democratic ballot. The failure to place Eshleman's name on the Democratic ballot was due to an accidental fluke and an over-right ruling in Los Angeles. If Eshleman's name had appeared on the Democratic ballot, it is exceedingly probable that he would have received the Democratic nomination, and it is entirely certain that he would have received a very large vote in the Democratic primaries. But even with this handicap against him, Eshleman received in the Progressive and Republican primaries almost as many votes as all his opponents combined on all the tickets. Eshleman received in all 202,575 votes. The combined vote for all other candidates on all tickets was 257,350, and this included 101,289 cast in the Democratic primary for the unopposed Democratic candidate.

State Controller Chambers obtained all three nominations and received a total of 310,000 votes against 103,146 for his opponent. Attorney-General Webb also received all three nominations and received a total of 333,017 votes against a combined vote of 109,000 for all his opponents. Exact figures are not available for the surveyor-generalship and the state treasurer, but in both of these cases also the Progressive nominees received more votes than all their competitors combined. For lieutenant-governor Eshleman received exactly twice as many votes as his Democratic competitor, and nearly five times as many as his principal Republican competitor. He received more than twice as many votes in the Republican primaries as the largest number received by any other Republican candidate.

If the primary were an election, practically the entire Progressive ticket would be elected now. With a single exception, every Progressive state candidate received many more votes than any other candidate, and most of them received more votes than all the other candidates on all the tickets combined.

NOT SO DANGEROUS

Senator Shafroth of Colorado in the Senate yesterday declared that the bill for the leasing of government coal lands in Alaska threatens the very existence of popular government. "The question at stake here," he said, "is whether we are to lose our individual right to ownership of property, a principle which has existed since the foundation of the government, or become the tenants of the government." Senator Shafroth asserted that the framers of the constitution never contemplated that the government should have the right to lease property to its people nor did the states which ratified the constitution ever contemplate such a thing.

Doubtless Senator Shafroth is exactly right in his final contention. The framers of the constitution did not contemplate the leasing of coal land in Alaska. Neither did they contemplate the government censorship over wireless telegraphy, nor the formation of a water trust to monopolize the distribution of electric power in California. They did not contemplate most of the things which twentieth century progress has brought about. But they did provide a flexible authority in the constitution of the United States which would enable the government to adapt itself to these new problems when they should arise. If we are to confine ourselves to the things which the fathers foresaw, we shall never get out of the thirteenth century.

The fathers of the constitution were individualists. They lived in an individualistic age, untouched as yet by rapid transportation or the application of power and organization to production. Of the public land they knew only three sorts, agricultural, forest and mineral. Quite correctly they and their successors learned by experience that the thing to do with agricultural land is to give it away in individual parcels of one-family size to whoever will take it and make a home on it. As to forest land, their only conception of the use of the forest was to cut it down and transform it into farms. They took it quite for granted that mineral was a sort of treasure trove and belonged to whoever found it.

Now we have learned that while the best thing to do with agricultural lands is to give it away individually, even this cannot be done quite so individualistically in cases where great collective works for irrigation of reclamation have to precede the use of the land. With forests, we are dealing mostly with land from which the forests ought never to be completely removed, and out of which farms could not be made. The monopolization of mineral land, especially of coal land, was rapidly tending to be one of the most serious menaces for the future. The leasing of privileges in the forests and in the mineral lands has become absolutely imperative, and the only popular government which is threatened by this change of policy is not the actual government by the people in the twentieth century, but is a certain fixed theory of government, inherited from the eighteenth century, which does not now correspond to the actual situation anywhere.

REVIEW OF SOME TARIFF HISTORY

Editor Republican:—We have had most of the candidates here in Fresno during the primary period of this campaign. From now on we will have the real candidates. The platforms are now before the people and the public oratory is now on.

It is a very evident fact that the old game of deception is to be tried out again, and that we are to have the old song of Protection vs. Free Trade, which is all buncombe and political rot. There is no such thing as free trade by any nation; hence it is nonsense to talk about it.

Since the year 1872, when I heard Garfield speak during the Grant and Greeley campaign, I have taken a deep interest in all of our tariff laws. I have every one in the house that has passed since that date.

Of late years we have wondered what many politicans mean when they talk about protection, as the thing varies so much as the years go by. What was considered a high tariff in Garfield's and McKinley's days is now ridiculed as free trade. Neither of those great men ever conceived of such a high tariff as we have today on many things.

My first real information on the tariff was gotten under Garfield's teaching. In his campaign text book for the presidency are these words: "I am for that protection that ultimately leads to free trade; I am for that protection that can only be achieved through a reasonable protection." John Sherman of those days taught the same doctrine and said many times that on our infant industries the tariff could and should be reduced.

During the Garfield campaign the argument was strong to have a tariff commission, and President Arthur, who took Garfields place, appointed a commission of nine members, all but one a high tariff man of those days. That commission, when it reported, advised and prepared a tariff bill with an average reduction of 25 per cent. But that did not suit Congress, and the infant industries did not want, then as now what the commission said the people wanted. Congress passed a bill in 1883. We were then in the midst of one of those industrial depressions, the same as we had passed through in 1873 to 1878. Both these hard times or panics, were under a high tariff. Things went on slowly, and in 1890 Mr. McKinley, then in Congres, fathered a new tariff law and it was passed and became the law October 1, 1890, and was in force until October 28, 1894, when the Wilson bill took its place. We were then in the industrial depression of 1893. These times, for some reason, have come periodically under high or so-called low tariffs. The truth is that the tariff had nothing to do with those panics, for they have been in five or six European countries at the same time that we have had them, the same as it has been the past year.

But after hearing so much on the present tariff and its so-called free trade, I have taken the trouble to look through the McKinley law of 1890 and the law we have now. I have compared rates on some of our home products, because the whole tariff humbug is a local matter every time. Everybody that believes in it wants it on his own products, forgetting that if he produces one thing that is protected he is purchasing thirty other products that are also protected; and if he thinks real hard he will find he is not benefited as he thinks he is, or as the politicians tell him.

But here are the rates of tariff on some of our own products under these two bills:

Raisins—McKinley law, 2c per lb; present law, 2c per lb.

Zante currants—McKinley law, free; present law, 1½c per lb.

Peaches and 'cots—McKinley law, free; present law, 1c per lb.

Olives—McKinley law, free; present law, 15c per gal.

Oranges and lemons, 1¼ cubic feet box—McKinley law, 13c per box; present law, 18c per box.

Oranges and lemons, 2½ cubic feet box—McKinley law, 25c per box; present law, 35c per box.

Oranges and lemons, 5 cubic feet box—McKinley law, 33c per box; present law, 75c per box.

Oranges and lemons, loose—McKinley law, $1.50 per 1,000; present law, ½c per lb.

Sugar—McKinley law free; present law, over 1c per pound.

If any of your readers doubts these figures, I shall be only too glad to meet with him publicly to discuss the facts.

Antwerp

Antwerp, a city for which Germany would readily pay $100,000,000 cash or 100,000 lives, is situated on the river Scheldt in the north part of Belgium. The Scheldt is a lazy, meandering stream which flows through a flat country and was originally fit only to raise bullfrogs in. But the Belgians dried it out and lined it with wharves and treated shipping so hospitably that the city is now second only to New York in commerce, a fact which causes the London citizen such acute pain that it is a pity to mention it in his presence.

Antwerp unloads the products of the world and passes them on to Germany and other countries, collecting duties on them first. That is why Germany would readily allow 100,000 Germans to be shot into useless remains if it could gain Antwerp thereby. It needs Antwerp in its business.

Antwerp is older than the mother-in-law joke. It was a husky town in the eighth century, and those tourists who have had to ride over its streets are inclined to believe that the pavements were there before the town was. For many centuries Antwerp grew and prospered, but it was hard work. There was scarcely a year when the citizens did not have to close up the stores and go out on the walk to defend the town from some grabby prince. Antwerp has belonged to almost every European nation and a visitor equipped with anything but the English language can get along very comfortably.

Antwerp invented the habeas corpus, and also brought up Rubens and Van Dyck. It has an enormous two-acre cathedral full of pictures that would

"Tourists who have had to ride over its streets are inclined to believe that the pavements were there before the town was."

sell for $1000 a square inch. But the most interesting sights to the tourists are the women and the dogs who haul the produce of the country through the streets. If equal suffrage is granted to Belgium, it is a question which of these two will get it first.

APPRECIATION FROM AN OLD RESIDENT

Yountville, Cal.
September 19, 1914

Mr. Chester Rowell,
Fresno Republican.

Dear Sir,

I see that your paper reaches this place pretty regularly. During the summer I have been near Los Banos and just returned to the Home the 11th, of this month. During the time that I was in Los Banos, I read a number of issues of your paper and am delighted to see, on my return, that it is coming here. I have worked a great deal in the San Joaquin Valley and find that a majority of the people have The Republican on their tables.

In my opinion that Republican is the best paper between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Yours very truly
ED MURPHY

PLAIN TO HIM

Among those visiting an art exhibition held recently in San Antonio was an old German, who wandered about looking at the paintings with interest. Finally he stopped before a portrait which showed a man sitting in a high-backed chair. Tacked to the frame was a small white placard reading: "A Portrait of J. F. Jones, by Himself."

The aged Teuton read the card and then chuckled sarcastically:

"Vot fools is dese art beoples," he muttered. "Anybody dot looks at dot picture vould know dot Jones is by himself. Nobody else is in der picture."—Dallas News.

DISHWASHER ROUTS BEAR

While washing dishes in a camp on the government road, near Leota Bluff, on the Klondike river, 30 miles below Dawson, a few days ago, George Ameraux looked over his shoulder. Grinning at him was a huge black bear.

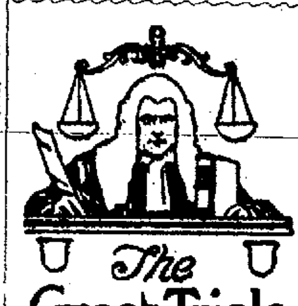

Ameraux threw a pan full of dishwater at his visitor. While Bruin was trying to rub the soap from his eyes, Ameraux rushed to his tent, returned with his rifle, and killed the bear.—Dawson (Y. T.) Dispatch Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

The Great Trials of History

TRIAL OF FRANCIS HOWARD

Of the long line of female criminals in England, there is hardly one more bewitching and odious than Francis Howard, Countess of Somerset. When only thirteen she was wed to Robert, Earl of Essex, a boy hardly older than herself. Later they were sent to school and when afterwards they met, the frivolous young coquette of the court gazed upon a grave young courtier, graceful and a perfect knight.

Seven years after the marriage, Essex met a mysterious death. It is still open to argument whether he was murdered by his keeper while waiting in the lieutenant's house or whether he fell by his own hands.

Francis Howard had many followers who were bewitched by her beauty, among them Carr, a young favorite of the king, the Earl of Somerset, and Sir Thomas Overbury. First the enchantress and Overbury planned to do away with Carr. They tried to hire assassins, to bring tales to his ears that would make him revolt at the name of Howard, but he was level-headed and cool and kept his council.

When Francis' amour for Overbury was dead, to rid herself of him, she circulated tales to the effect that the king could not rule without Overbury by his side. Kink James took it in the light of a challenge and swore a big oath that Overbury should be sent abroad. "He would see whether he or his courtiers ruled his kingdom!" The plotters took care that Overbury should refuse to go, and the king, incensed at his refusal of so high a trust had him thrown into the Bloody Tower.

Her love for Carr now dead Francis took into her confidence the Earl of Somerset. She would never be safe till Overbury was dead! So Somerset, having considerable influence, at once discharged the keeper of the Tower and set in his place Sir Gervase Helwyss, a ruined gambler. Another disreputable character, one Richard Weston, was made a keeper, by Sir Thomas Monson, who, however, thought it best to first consult the Privy Seal—an act of prudence to which he afterwards owed his life. From the night of Weston's installment Overbury's strength began to fail. Though his offense was only a contempt, he was confined more strictly than men who were condemned to die. Helwyss, however, seems to have gotten "cold feet" for instead of administering the poison as instructed, he poured it into the ground, but still some jellies and sweetstuffs that the enchantress sent were delivered and each one was poisoned.

Then James Franklin, an apothecary, sold some poison to Francis Howard, who gave it to Lobel, a French apothecary, and Reeves, his English boy, who were appointed to do the deed. When all was ready Lobel made the glister, which his apprentice, Reeve, applied.

Overbury was dead.

Exactly eight years later to the day, when Francis Howard, as a child, had married Essex, she and Somerset were married amidst great pomp and ceremony. Not long after the Earl of Northampton died from a sore in his side; in time, but only just in time, to save himself from the fate to which he had sent so many—a cell in the Tower. Rumors began to circulate to the effect that Overbury had not died a natural death and to crown all, Reeve, the apothecary's lad, died in Flanders with the news on his lips of the work he and his master had been hired to do.

Then followed a long series of trials which involved nearly all the nobility of Britain. Helwyss made a confession, was hanged in chains on Tower Hill, and his gibbet left to stand a warning for wrongdoers. Mrs. Turner, who had intimate knowledge of the plot, was hung at Tyburn, and Franklin and Weston were strung up like dogs. Papers were seized from an inn, "The Beaver Hat," and sufficient evidence to hang the lord and lady thrice if the king had so wanted. But instead they were both held and sent to the Tower. The cell occupied by Overbury being the only one vacant, Sir George More bade them enter. "Put me not in there," shrieked Francis, livid with horror. "I shall never sleep again; his ghost will haunt my bed." She was then carried back to her apartment until Raleigh's place in the garden could be prepared for her.

On May 24, 1615, Francis held up her hand in answer to her name in Westminster Hall. By her side was a warden with his ax as she pleaded guilty and listened to her sentence. Somerset was dressed in mourning as if for his wife, as he took his place. He pleaded not guilty in spite of the plea of his wife.

For state reasons the evidence of the boy, Reeve, had been suppressed, and all the long May day was worn through with long speeches. Lord Bacon was very skillful in his testimony, but his proofs were vague. When night came and Somerset left the courthouse, none knew whether or no he was guilty, but all knew he was doomed to die. Again they went to the Bloody Tower, but not in peace. Ever they quarreled and bickered till they heartily despised one the other. After weary waiting a pardon came from the king, and they went away to live quietly in a small country house—living apart—and nursing a blue-eyed baby, afterwards Lady Ann Carr, that had been born to Francis Howard while in prison.

He claims that the receiver attachment was not insulated. The plea in defense is that he voluntarily entered upon the employment, the apparatus being in plain view, and he knowing that the firm had no control over the electric current, he assumed all risk incident to the employment.

Many Late Reference Books Ready for Library Patrons

Contrary to the views taken in most books on public ownership, Yves Guyot, a distinguished French economist in his book, "Where and Why Public Ownership Has Failed," gives facts favoring private ownership. The volume is one of a consignment of reference books that have recently been received at the Fresno Public Library and are now ready for the readers.

Guyot discusses briefly the principles underlying public and private enterprise. He examines the results of state and private ownership in various countries, discusses the results of government monopolies, such as gun powder and tobacco and the municipal ownership of public utilities, such as gas, electricity and street railways. In every case he finds the administrative, financial, political, and social, results inferior to those obtained under private ownership and management.

Management of Horses.

Merritt Wesley Harper's "Management and Breed of Horses," includes a discussion of the economic usefulness, judging and allied subjects, early history and study of breeds, breeding, feeding, care and management of both horses and mules. Material has been chosen for the needs of the farmer, the breeder and the student. The book is more comprehensive and detailed, less from the standpoint of the expert than Gay's, "Productive Horse Husbandry," but has inferior illustrations.

"The Happy Irish."

An entertaining appreciation of the Irish people is given in "The Happy Irish," by Harold Begbie and shows a sympathetic understanding and insight into their character. "The Lady Next Door," by the same writer is a plea for home rule.

"Economic Beginnings of the West"

Katharine Coman in her book, "The Economic Beginnings of the West," has written a narrative based largely on original sources of the growth of the country west of the Mississippi, which the author traces to effect upon events of economic development. This is a valuable, comprehensive and scholarly work, yet fairly popular in treatment. More attention is given to a study of the tendencies than to the customary analysis of the sequence and locality.

Britannica Year Book.

In the Britannica Year Book for 1913, published by the Britannica Encyclopedia people, many of the recent inventions are considered and much of the matters of interest and importance that have occurred during the last few years are given as a supplementary edition to the encyclopedia.

Gitanjali the new Hindu poet, recently awarded the Nobel prize has a book, "Havindranatha Thakura." "The Wireless Man," by Collins is a book written expressly for boys.

CALIFORNIA RAISINS DEMANDED IN MARKET

New Price Schedule Goes Into Effect—Sales Are Heavy

The raisin market has been unusually strong during the last week and the Associated reports that the sales made and sales confirmed by letter and wire are very satisfactory. The extra activity is attributed largely to the fact that the Associated announced last week that a new and higher schedule in prices would be put into effect yesterday.

"The sales and confirmation of sales since we announced a raise in raisin prices have been gratifying," said James Madison, manager of the Associated Raisin company, yesterday afternoon. "We are really surprised that the demand has been so spirited in view of the fact that foreign currants and Sultans are being offered in the eastern markets at such low figures. It but demonstrates that the American people are learning the quality of the California product and are demanding it, even if the foreign product is hurled on the market at a very depressing figure. The Californian raisin generally puts up a fine appearance in the market, making it easy for the reailer to sell his customer. Not only does it put up a clean appearance, but it has a flavor that is hard to equal and our eastern friends are learning to ask for the California brands almost exclusively."

CHURCH SOCIAL YOSEMITE TRIP

A trip to Yosemite Valley—with the Bridal Veil Falls, Inspiration Point, Mirrow Lake, Cascade and Yosemite Falls—with people dressed in mountain costumes with guides—a camp fire—and camp music is the novel feature that has been arranged for the "Vacation" social to be given at the First Presbyterian church, Merced and M streets, by the Christian Endeavor Union of this city on tomorrow evening.

The large assembly hall will be arranged with representations of these famous points and the details will be carried out as far as possible. Just inside the door at the main entrance will be a registry counter with a hotel clerk and bell "hops" to await on the arrivals. Guides may be engaged by the tourists at the hotel and they promise to show the visitors a great many surprises. Around the camp fire there will be music, and a few literary selections will be given. All the members are invited and may bring their friends.

The committee in charge of the general arrangements consists of Miss Grace Breckenridge, chairman; Mr. John Yoren and Mr. McClellan.

COLONIST TICKETS ON SALE TOMORROW

First Arrivals Should Reach Here By Next Tuesday

Tomorrow the railroads will begin to sell one way colonist tickets from eastern points to California. These tickets are sold at a low price and are good on almost all of the trains coming in this direction. It takes about five days for the first trains that are to carry the new residents to California to reach this state, and the first arrivals should be here about next Tuesday.

In previous years the traffic has been very heavy to the coast, but it is not thought that there will be an exceptionally large number of colonists this year. Numbers of possible travellers who wish to locate in California are registered at the present on account of the financial stringency, and also a great number have planned to make the trip next year when the exhibitions are being held here. Quite a few reservations have been made at local offices by those who have friends coming from the east, and Fresno, as usual, is certain to get her share. The reduced tickets will be on sale until October 8.

United States Marshal C. T. Walton returned to his headquarters in Los Angeles last night after being called to Fresno by the serious illness of his father, Joseph Walton. Walton, a pioneer of Fresno, is now on the road to recovery.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Andrew Mattei and her two daughters, Misses Anne and Thea Mattei, returned yesterday after nearly a year's sojourn abroad. They sailed from San Francisco at the beginning of their world tour, and had a most delightful trip through Japan and the Orient. Later they visited in the European countries, and were members of a party that went to Iceland. It was while in Hamburg that the declaration of war was made, and Miss Anne Mattei was ill in a hospital there. Miss Thea Mattei and her aunt, Mrs. Earl Osborn of Los Angeles, left at half past three on a Saturday morning, and were followed on Sunday night by her sister, her mother, and Mr. Osborn. They did not meet until they reached London. Mrs. Mattei and her companions crossed the famous bridge at Liege, just two hours before it was blown up.

During the lovely trip of the early months of the year, the party had made extensive collections of beautiful souvenirs and gifts, all of which are with lost baggage. Realizing their loss during their hurried trip from Hamburg to London, they purchased wonderful laces in Brussels, and also made purchases in London of numerous souvenirs, only to have the entire lot stolen.

Their only chance of immediate return to America was by obtaining steerage passage, but once on board the ladies of the party were placed with the first class passengers. They visited with relatives in Philadelphia for a time before coming on to California, getting a much needed rest after their strenuous trip.

Mrs. Frank Nelson Wright and little son are expected to return to Fresno the first of October, after a sojourn of some weeks in San Francisco.

Interesting news from the University of California is that Miss Camille Purdy, who entered this year as a member of the Sophomore class, has been made a member of the Treble Clef society. The additional honor has been conferred on the talented young girl, in being chosen as the only new member to be given a part in the cast of "The Red Mill," which is to be staged at the Macdonough Theater in Oakland on October 8th. Miss Mila Cearley is to have the lead in the production. Miss Purdy is also to participate in a Stunt Show, which the sophomore class is to present shortly.

Mrs. Arthur Chambers of San Francisco is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Phillips. Mrs. Chambers is well known here being the daughter of Harry S. Dixon, one of the pioneers of the county, and spent her childhood here. She is the sister of Maynard Dixon, the well known artist.

Staub, the club president, and will celebrate "President's Day." A charge of the summer vacation was that each member should earn one dollar before the fall assemblage, and a recital of the different methods of dollar raising will be a feature of the afternoon's entertainment.

Mrs. J. C. Forkner was a hostess yesterday afternoon, at her home on Van Ness Boulevard, entertaining in compliment to her mother, Mrs. L. P. Swift. The guest list included the members of the board of directors of the Young Women's Christian Association, of which Mrs. Swift is a valued member, and the secretaries of the association. Informal entertainment whiled away the afternoon, and at its conclusion, tempting refreshments were dispensed.

"BRAIN FOOD" SELLING FOR HALF PRICES

Hurry up, who wants this book 45 cents, who'll make it 40 cents—going, going, gone—half price, your last chance—best brain food on the market!

These cries did not issue from a mad-house. Neither did they come from a woman's bargain sale or an auction, but they can be heard every day after school session in room No. 8 of the high school building and simply form part of the book market plan which was instituted by Principal Liddicke at the opening of school, in an effort to overcome the high prices and book shortage that has been blamed on the European war.

The students dispose of their old books in this manner and as high as sixty students have taken advantage of the system in one afternoon. It is estimated that several hundred books have been exchanged by this market since it began operation.

Local dealers announce that the demand for school books has increased 75 per cent over last year, due partially to the large school enrollment and to the exhaustion of the market supply. San Francisco book dealers report that the market had almost been emptied before the Fresno schools, which are among the last to open in the state, presented their orders. As the state supplies most of the grade books, this condition applies chiefly to the high school.

FAIR FLORAL SHOW HAS MANY ENTRIES

Amateurs May Exhibit Auto Will Call for Displays

Entries for the Fresno District Fair's floral show have been coming very rapidly during the past few days and Will Marshall, who is handling this department, is well pleased.

Among those who are going to make displays are Roeding's Nursery, Wilson's Nursery, Kirkman's Nursery, Mrs. Shimmins, Kate Parsons, the San Francisco Floral Parlors and others.

An automobile will be out Monday collecting the exhibits of amateur flower growers. Those wishing to enter exhibits can phone 2272 and the auto will call. Flowers have been promised from Roeding Park and from the Dahlia Gardens of Pacific Grove.

The Flower Show should be one of the finest on the grounds. Tuesday is Flower Show Day at the Fair.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF CHAMBER TONIGHT

Robertson Returns From Sacramento With Fresno Display

A special meeting of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight. It was called yesterday by the president, W. W. Phillips. And a number of important matters are to be attended to at this time. William Robertson, the secretary of the chamber, has been absent for the past two weeks in Sacramento attending to the Fresno county exhibit there, but returned last night. Tonight he will make his report, and the chamber will then make their arrangements to make the same exhibit at the Fresno District Fair.

The prize money that was earned by the county at the state fair will be devoted to some good cause. The last prize money won by this county was turned over to the raisin growers to assist them in perfecting their organization. President W. W. Phillips has some scheme for the use of the money that he is not at liberty to divulge until tonight. The sum won amounts to considerably more than $1,000.

It has already been settled that President W. W. Phillips and Bart Harvey are to represent the Chamber at the California—Inland—Waterways Association's convention at Stockton Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, and tonight other delegates will be chosen. It is thought that a very strong representation will be made by the Chamber of Comerce, in order to make as good a showing as is to be made by the other organizations of the city. Progress will also be reported on the good roads petitions.

NEW PHYSICS CLASS IN HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Adams As Second Vice Principal Joins Faculty

In an effort to popularize the physics course at the local high school, a class has been organized in household physics for girl students. The work will be in charge of Eugene Heath, who will show the practical application of many of the principles taught in the physics course in household work, especially cooking.

Miss Edna N. Adams, newly elected woman's vice principal of the school, arrived in Fresno Sunday and assumed her duties at the school on Monday. Owing to the failure of authorities in the Oakland high school, where she has been teaching up to this time, to secure a successor, her arrival here was delayed until after the opening of the term.

What Anne Rittenhouse Says About the Styles

JET IN VARIOUS FORMS IS USED BY PREMET AND CALLOT FOR EVENING GOWNS.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—When the house of Callot showed its evening gowns, it did so mournfully, and yet it was the few purchases of the Americans for trade and individual use, that kept the workrooms open during this month and gave employment and money to hundreds of women and girls.

Whether or not the amount of money taken in balanced the amount of money spent in preparing the models, is a financial problem that no one can settle, but it had not been for the American trade during the openings, slight as it was in comparison to other years, there would have been far more hungry people in Paris than there are now.

What Americans Bought.

However, there was nothing philanthropic in the effort of the American buyers to get the clothes that represented the newest fashion, no matter how beneficial may have been its result. What they bought cannot fail to be of interest, for, as I have emphasized before, the Paris houses turned the trick in fashions during this month by having their regular openings and showing a new silhouette.

The change in evening gowns was not so marked as in day clothes. Skirts are still narrow and short. There is a great deal of drapery at knees and ankles which gives the effect of immense fulness to the whole skirt, and one only perceives by close observation that there is no free movement in the underskirt than we have had for three years. The extreme shortness is supposed to obviate the narrowness.

Both Callot and Premet used so much jet in various colors that the Galeries Lafayette took up the idea at once. One can always feel the popular pulse at this place. What the people have liked at the great houses that is what the Galeries show; and it is now selling white evening gowns with moonlight jet, and black tulle gowns with a great deal of black jet, at the amazing price of $20.

I have seen American women carrying away four and five such gowns at a time, packed in pasteboard boxes, as hand luggage to the ships.

The gowns that Callot shows have wonderfully colored jet on them; it is Oriental and Russian and gives the effect of barbaric jewelry.

Gowns of Moonlight Jet.

This may be in compliment to their ally, Russia, but I fear it was invented too far in advance of the war to have any relation to present events.

Callot maintains the moyen-age line in everything, and this gives her a chance to girdle the hips with a huge belt of colored jet, finished with a large motif in front.

Premet has a gown which she calls clair de lune which has a short hip drapery of moonlight jet, placed flatly over the figure. There is another gown in which the entire corsage is made from swinging strands of iridescent jet. She has another of which the entire tunic, full at the hem, are arranged in points, in of large blocks or squares of carved jet; this is combined with black tulle. Happy news to most women!

Autumn Receipes

QUINCE HONEY—Make a thick syrup of three pounds of granulated sugar and one pint of hot water. Let it boil and add to the syrup three large quinces which have been grated. Boil all together for twenty minutes, then add a tiny bit of powdered alum—about the size of a green pea.

BISCUIT SANDWICHES — Roll biscuit dough very thin—about like pie crust—and spread with butter. Then roll another and put on top of this. Cut out and bake in quick oven. When done, pull apart and spread white hot. For filling take equal parts of chicken and ham, seasoned with celery salt and cayenne pepper, moistened with mayonnaise.

CHEESE SOUFFLE— One cupful of sweet milk, one teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful each of butter and flour, three eggs beaten separately, one-fourth pound of rich cheese, grated, and a dash of paprika. Thicken the milk with the flour, add seasoning and cheese. Pour this over the beaten yolks, add the whites, beaten stiff, and bake twenty or thirty minutes. This is a light and digestible dish.

LEMON DUMPLINGS — Half a pound of bread crumbs, half a pound of finely chopped suet, a quarter of a pound of dried flour, the rind and the juice of one lemon and two eggs. Mix together well, form into dumplings, tie in cloths and boil two hours.

ORANGE SALAD — A fancy salad offers the combination of lettuce, oranges, pimolas or stuffed olives and English walnuts. On the crisp lettuce leaf is heaped thin slices of the small oranges, half sections of the walnuts and the pimolas cut in two lengthwise, all dressed with French dressing rich in oil—the Italian oil preferred. White vinegar and half a teaspoonful of sugar are used with Italian oil and the usual proportions of salt, pepper or paprika.

OYSTERS AND TRIPE—A palatable Sunday morning breakfast dish during cold weather is a combination of oysters and tripe. Boil until perfectly tender one pound of honeycomb tripe and cut into narrow strips. Place in a saucepan one tablespoonful of butter and one small onion, chopped fine. Cook under a cover until soft but not brown. Add one tablespoonful of flour gradually, one-half cup of milk and when they begin to boil put in the tripe and twenty-five oysters. As soon as the gills of the oysters curl season with one-half teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper, and serve.—Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

POSSIBLE REDUCTION OF SWEET WINE TAX

Phillips Thinks Rate Will Be Set at Ten Cents

"I think it probable that the proposed tax of 20 cents per gallon on sweet wines will be greatly reduced before congress will permit the war revenue bill to be passed," stated W. W. Phillips, president of the chamber of commerce yesterday. "We feel that we have no hope for completely defeating the tax, especially since the President refused to receive the California delegation headed by Theodore Bell Monday, but a substantial reduction is certainly expected. The reduction should not make the gallon tax more than ten cents, and may even be only half that amount. The situation is far from hopeless."

The following telegram was received yesterday afternoon from Congressman Church in answer to the protest wired by the Fresno county chamber of commerce:

Washington, D. C., September 21st 1914

W. W. Phillips

President Chamber of Commerce, Fresno, Calif.

We are doing everything possible to defeat the proposed tax on dry and sweet wines we understand fully the gravity of the situation, a hundred percent tax is fundamentally wrong.

MAKE CAMPAIGN FOR UNIVERSITY BONDS

Ralph Merritt of Alumni Association Touring State

University Club of Fresno Appoints Committee to Cooperate

Convinced that the voters of the state must know the actual needs of the State University at Berkeley in order that they may vote for the $1,850,000 bond issue at the November election, which is placed on the ballot as "No. 11," Ralph P. Merritt, comptroller for the university and chairman of the University Alumni association, is making a speaking tour of Central California to enlist the aid of university men in conducting a broad advertising campaign favorable to the issue during the next few weeks.

Members of the University club assembled last evening to hear Mr. Merritt, who had reached Fresno unexpectedly. He spoke on the overcrowded condition of the state university, the work being done and other phases of the educational plan of the institution, warranting active support of the bond issue. The money is wanted to carry out a definite building plan.

Merritt declared that the bond issue is not being promoted by the regents of the university, but that it was a plan thought out by the alumni and that it is being supported by the alumni, students and believers in higher education. The present enrollment at Berkeley is about 5200 students and by Christmas it is expected to reach the 5400 mark. Counting the summer students, about 8500 students are accommodated by the university yearly. This estimate does not include outside work directed by the institution or correspondence school training. He mentioned that because of the overcrowded condition gymnasium exercises are dispensed with and that part of the building is used for a class room. A good portion of the laboratory work is done on the outside of the building, when the weather permits. When the weather is bad, part of the students have to be dismissed. Class work is carried on from 8 o'clock in the morning until about 10 o'clock at night.

Funds are needed to complete the library and to build a library annex. North Hall is no longer adequate and is a dangerous fire trap, according to Merritt. Other buildings are needed and an auditorium is almost a necessity, he claims.

District Attorney Manson F. McCormick, who is a Stanford graduate, acted as chairman of the evening and approved the bond issue in a short talk. County Clerk D. M. Barnwell was appointed by a vote of the club members present to act as chairman of a committee of five to figure out some method for bringing "No. 11" before the voters of Fresno.

The plan proposed by the committee is to have individual club members address letters to their friends inviting them to vote for the bond issue. The club will give further consideration to the question at a meeting to be held next Monday night.

Continuing his trip, Merritt will speak at Visalia at noon today and at Bakersfield tonight, returning at midnight to the Bay.

CAUSED BY OVEREATING

Deficient gastric secretion, meaning a lack of the fluids necessary for digestion, is a prevalent condition. You may have it now and not know it because you are able to get along without actual discomfort even with your enfeebled digestion.

But if you overeat—then you are in trouble. You have indigestion because you have given your weakened stomach too much to do. The deficient gastric secretion was what doctors call the predisposing cause, the overeating was the exciting cause. It is easy not to repeat the overeating but the predisposing cause must be corrected if you are to be well.

The secretions that digest the food come from glands that are nourished directly by the blood. When these secretions are insufficient the only way to restore their healthful condition is by building up the blood. This can be done by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the non-alcoholic tonic that assists nature in keeping the body in health. Proper attention to diet and the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be tried in cases of disordered digestion because it is the simple and natural way to correct the trouble.

Send today for a copy of our free diet book "What to Eat and How to Eat." Address the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Dr. O. W. Steinwand of Selma is in the singular position of a man having political honors thrust upon him without his knowing it. He is a candidate for the state senate at the November election without as yet being aware of the fact. From State Secretary F. C. Jordan, a telegram came yesterday to County Clerk Barnwell requesting him to notify Steinwand to file his statement of campaign expenses and pay his $10 filing fee for this office. The presumption is that these two conditions being complied with, Steinwand's name will go on the ballot to be voted on in November. It appears that the Socialists of the Twenty-sixth district wrote in Dr. Steinwand's name for senator.

WATER PROBLEM BODY TO MEET THIS WEEK

Not Receiving Proper Support and May Be Disbanded

The San Joaquin Valley Water Problem association will hold its semi-annual meeting in Stockton on Thursday evening, this week, choosing that time as most of the members will be in attendance at the inland waterways meeting. It is a problem whether this association will survive much longer as the public does not give it much support. The officers serve without pay and it comes heavy on them to give their time and pay their own expenses.

John Fairweather of Fresno is its present president, A. L. Cowell of San Francisco at present is secretary and Bert Einstein of Coalinga is treasurer.

Mr. Fairweather will speak at the Inland Waterways meeting in Stockton on the benefit to California of the Newlands-Broussard bill now before congress, which appropriates $60,000,000 a year for ten years, giving $5,000,000 a year to California. Mr. Fairweather believes heartily in the bill and is very enthusiastic in its support.

JURY DISAGREES IN LOWRY CASE

A disagreement of the jury followed yesterday upon the trial before Judge Church of C. B. Lowry, a farmer of Tranquility, accused of felony. The jury stood seven for conviction, four for acquittal and one non-committal. Effort will be made today to secure Lowry's release on bail. The prosecutrix in the case was his 15-year-old stepdaughter Gertie Halstead, who is about to become a mother. Frank A. Curtin defended the accused. The defense was a denial of the charge, with witnesses introduced to establish good character. Mrs. Lowry gave damaging testimony concerning a medical visit made to Fresno with her daughter.

Sufferers from Consumption should take the trouble to investigate what Eckman's Alterative has accomplished in restoring others to health. Read this:

Griffith, Lake Co., Ind.

"Gentlemen:—About Sept. 10th, 1908, my mother-in-law was taken sick with Catarrhal Pneumonia, which developed into Tuberculosis. In January, when Rev. Wm. Berg, of St. Michael's church at Schererville, Ind., prepared her for death, he recommended that I get Eckman's Alterative, and see if it would not give her some relief. The attending physician declared she had Consumption and was beyond all medical aid. Practically without hope for recovery, I insisted that she try the Alterative, which she did. I am glad to say that she soon began to improve. Now she works as hard as ever, weighs twenty pounds heavier than she ever did before she took sick and is in good health." (Abbreviated).

GROOMING BALLOONS FOR LONG TRIP FROM FRESNO

Carter Now Filling Big Bags for Trial at World's Record

Spectacular Attempt to Be Made First Time Here

Out near the corner of Ventura and Fifth streets preparations are being made for one of the most spectacular undertakings that has ever been attempted. It is nothing less than the first continuous air journey across the United States from coast to coast.

Prof. Albert Carter, aeronaut and student of aeronautics, is going to fly from the Fresno District Fair Grounds, Thursday afternoon, October 1, at 2 o'clock. But not in the usual way. He is going to use not one balloon, but a fleet of them, ten in number.

The world's record for length of time above the earth is 87 hours with a distance of 1,740 miles traversed in that time. This record was created last year by a trio of German aeronauts who flew from Prussia to Russia. Carter expects to greatly surpass this and to establish a new record.

Most persons believe that a balloon can remain indefinitely above the earth when once it has arisen, but this is a mistake. There are certain well known and well understood problems to be overcome. It is in hopes of being able to overcome these that Carter is using so many balloons.

The problem of traveling east is very simple for their is a constant air current in this direction at all times. The aeronaut has but to pass through lower currents and reach this east-bound one. Having reached it, the problem is to remain aloft. And this is the greatest problem of all.

This current of air travels at a rate of 45 miles an hour, sometimes doubling this velocity. To the novice it might seem that the aeronauts would be blown from their balloon and the fleet scattered far and wide. But the effect is as though the earth were slipping rapidly by and the balloons remained still. No gusts of wind, no eddies in the current, no appreciable "air pockets," no fierce blasts. A piece of tissue paper laid on the side of the ballon would lie as securely as though on a table in an air-tight room. The balloon drifts at exactly the same speed as the wind, therefore it is in an absolute calm.

Loss of Gas Problem.

The great problem is the loss of gas. A balloon must be arranged with an "appendix." This is an orifice at the bottom through which it is filled and in it there is a valve.

As the balloon rises, the atmospheric pressure grows less and less. The gas within the balloon expands accordingly. If no outlet were arranged the pressure would burst the ballon. But the valve allows the gas to escape. If the aeronauts should rise to a height of 20,000 feet the gas would have doubled in volume and half of it would escape.

But the trouble comes at night. Within fifteen minutes after the sun has gone down the balloon begins to fall rapidly. Ballast must be hastily thrown overboard, or in its fall the balloon will attain such velocity that it will come to earth. So as soon as the sun is down the aeronauts begin to throw ballast overboard.

But Carter will have another resource. His fleet of auxiliary balloons will be used to supply new gas. They will be a reservoir of buoyancy and the gas will be taken from them one by one and put into the main gas bag. As the gas cools and contracts and the big gas bag begins to drop, one of the smaller gas bags is weighted with ballast till it comes beneath the main balloon. In this position the gas is easily piped into the main bag. Then the smaller balloon, weighing in the neighborhood of 250 pounds will be cut up and thrown overboard as ballast, a little at a time.

The Main Balloon.

The main balloon in which the aeronauts will travel, has a capacity of 60,000 cubic feet of gas. Five of the auxiliaries have a capacity of 10,000 cubic feet each, and four of them carry 2,500 feet each, so that the combined capacity of the auxiliaries is exactly that of the main balloon. Thus Carter can replenish his balloon until he obtains double the capacity of what is usually obtained.

Carter hopes, with the big supply of gas and the ballast which the emptied balloons will supply that he will be able to make the 3000-mile trip without the least trouble. It will require some very fast work at sundown and sun-up to keep the fleet from rising too high or falling too low.

A very small amount of ballast will make quite a difference. Thus, when the balloon begins to fall just the least bit, a spoonful of sand will keep it stable. It is very essential that it be not allowed to go either down or up.

A very ingenious device apprises the aeronauts whether they are rising or falling. It works by air pressure with a bubble that travels up a tube on one side when the balloon is rising and up on the other side when it is falling. An electric bell or a buzzer has the same effect at night. Various other instruments will be taken along by Prof. Carter and his companion.

They will take provisions, clothing and equipment for a two weeks' flight, although they should make the trip in the record time of three or four days if they strike the current they hope to. They must cross the Sierras the first afternoon. Carter says that they will rise immediately to an altitude of 12,000 feet and will be able to cross the range without the least trouble. The air current takes the contour of the land and flows up when it comes to the mountains just as a current of water would flow down.

Pilot Balloon

A small silk balloon will be used as a pilot above to locate currents a thousand feet above the balloon fleet. Below there will be a drag rope 1000 feet long. This will be to take up weight if the balloon fleet should come too close to the earth. It weighs 213 pounds. When the balloons are at a high altitude and it is deemed necessary to determine the direction of wind below the balloon, a piano wire one mile long will be unreeled. On the end of it will fly a pennant that will show the direction of the current.

The feat attempted by Prof. Carter is absolutely unique. Nothing like it has ever been attempted. It is designed to overcome the great problem of replenishing the gas supply and Carter believes that it has unquestionably done this.

That it will be one of the biggest sensations of any fair in the state is assured and interest among all who are interested in aeronautics is keen. There will probably be many pictures taken of the strange aircraft. At the elevation he expects to attain and hold, Carter's fleet of balloons will appear about the size of a baseball to those standing on the ground.

Interesting Facts

The ten balloons now being tested and prepared for the long trip are assembled in the vacant lots where they are to be partly filled and then transported to the fair grounds, where the remainder of the gas will be put in them. This will be done during Fair week. The work of inflating them will require not less than twenty hours. Carter says that the gas here has unusually good lifting power and "life." By the latter he means that its lifting power on the second day is as great or nearly as great as on the first.

In the sewing of the 27,000 square feet of balloon fabric, 74 miles of thread will be used. A man with a sewing machine is working steadily on this. For reinforcement, 7,000 yards of half inch tape is double seamed on. Five coats of balloon varnish, 650 gallons, enough to paint three and a half acres, is used to make the big bags impervious to gas so none can escape.

The sleeping net, which is to be used alternately by the two aeronauts, is suspended between the basket and the gas bag. The basket is made of rattan imported from China.

GAS AND CONSTIPATION

Often arise from poor digestion, and poor digestion means the closing up of the sewers of the system and thus obstructing the natural action of every organ of the body, lay at your doors more bodily discomfort and a greater number of serious after effects than any other ailments in the category of disease. There is no reason why people, old or young, should allow themselves to be made uncomfortable and miserable for years and probably a life time, when M. A. C. will in a short time eradicate this undesirable condition. M. A. C. keeps your stomach and intestines clear and promptly relieves constipation. Take it today and feel better tomorrow. TOO OLD FOR CIVIL WAR SERVICE, AGED VETERAN JUST DIES

Judge Smith Receives Word of Death of Old Family Friend

Discharged from the Confederate army at Tupelo, Tenn., fifty-two years ago because he was too old for service, Colonel Thomas Campbell, aged 114 years, died recently on his ranch near Pinson, Tenn. Justice of the Peace Smith, who remembers Colonel Campbell as an old man when he was a boy on his father's plantation, yesterday received a newspaper clipping telling of the death of the aged man. Judge Smith, when he visited his old home last summer, met Colonel Campbell and renewed his boyhood friendship with the old gentleman.

Colonel Campbell, then well along in years, came to the Smith plantation before Judge Smith was born. When the war broke out Colonel Campbell and Judge Smith's older brother enlisted with the Confederates. At Tupelo, Tenn., Campbell was discharged because he was too old and Smith's brother was released from his regiment because he was under age. Campbell and Smith went into another state, enlisted in the cavalry and served until the end of the war.

WANTS GRAPES TO SHOW TO GROWERS IN NEW YORK STATE

The following letter to the Fresno Chamber of Commerce has been referred by Secretary William Robertson to the public. The chamber of commerce will be glad to pack and forward any contribution offered.

Fresno Chamber of Commerce:—As a wide-eyed tourist, I was delighted with Fresno and became deeply impressed with the wonderful possibilities of the great San Joaquin. Ever since I have been a "booster" looking forward to the time when I could return to your fertile region, which I consider the "cream" of California. I have lived for twenty years in the Chautauqua grape belt, the largest grape-growing section in the East. There are good vineyards here, and skilled growers, although many of the latter are decidedly incredulous when they hear some of the facts concerning your grapes. In view of the general situation here, I am very desirous of holding a "show me" exhibit, in a modest way, at the big annual fair of this grape belt, during the week, September 28-October 1.

Trusting that I may not appear too presumptuous in making this request, I wish to ask you to send me, by express, collect, two very large bunches of grapes. I wish to leave the selection of variety to your best judgment, although I would suggest one bunch of malagas and one of Emperor or Tokay. Size of bunch and ability to stand the shipment are the important qualifications. I shall be glad to have the fruit at hand as soon after September 24 as possible.

You may depend upon it, that Fresno and your organization will get the fullest publicity possible among the fruit growers here. I shall be glad to distribute some of your printed matter, descriptive of Fresno and the San Joaquin valley, if the cost of expressing such literature is not excessive.

Extending my warmest thanks for your attention in this matter, and hoping that I may tell you personally this coming winter just how your grapes "astonished the natives," I remain,

Very sincerely,

CHAS. E. BROWN.

DISTRICT SCHOOLS BADLY CROWDED

Teachers Have Been Added as Far as Funds Will Permit

Complaints are coming in very generally to the county superintendent's office of crowded district schools with the opening of the new term, a condition of affairs which teachers must contend with as best they can.

Canal school has added a fourth teacher in Miss Elizabeth Kaler; Orl King has engaged a new teacher to make up a staff of three; so has Scandinavian Colony school, the third teacher being Mrs. King. In Carina district on the West Side, which generally is shy on school children, for which reason it has bordered dangerously on suspension, the school has opened with eight pupils in charge of Miss May Kronlech. She was chosen because she was in a position to add to the school population with two cousins who are under her charge. Pomona district which last term had 64 pupils has opened with 50 and is in a quandary because finances will not permit of employing another teacher, nor can the school accommodations be enlarged. Its financial revenue is contingent upon the average school attendance of last term, so that the large increase cannot be turned into an available asset until the 1915-16 term.

NON-PARTISAN SUPPORT OF GOVERNOR JOHNSON

Editor Republican: Your reflections about the prevalent non-partisan sentiment as shown throughout the state in the recent primary election moves me to say that in the organization of the non-partisan Johnson-Eshelman club which was undertaken a few days ago we were greatly and most satisfactorily surprised to find so many Democrats and Republicans, voters who have always stood pat on party nominations, who readily signed the pledge to vote and work for Johnson and Eshelman. Conventions and bosses are relegated to the demolition bow-wows.

LOTS CONDEMNED FOR SCHOOL SITE

The city of Fresno school district was given judgment for the condemnation of the land by Judge Austin yesterday, but will have to pay for the land necessary to enlarge the Columbia school site relatively more than it compromised for with other lot owners. The judgment was in the suit to condemn lots 17-23 and 26-32 in the west one-half of block on B street back of the school. Francisco Lombardo for lots 28-29 was awarded $1,878.96, and Joe Jura for lots 26-32 $1,712.30. The other defendants in the case were out of the litigation, having accepted the various offers of the board's agent.

RANCHER IS CRUSHED WHEN HIS AUTO TURNS TURTLE

Mart Ashurst Found Under Smashed Car By Camper

Auto Goes Over Embankment on Road to Laton; Hold Inquest Today

Held down by the back of the seat of his overturned automobile, the body of Murt Ashurst a rancher of Stratford, Kings county, was found yesterday afternoon on a road two miles this side of Laton by H. E. Lawther, a camper, on his way to Fresno from Hanford. E. L. Hughes, 1932 I street, and W. E. Boundtree, on their way to Hanford, reached the scene of the accident a few minutes later and lifted the automobile from Ashurst's body. The radiator of the car was still hot and it is presumed that the accident happened but a few minutes before the men reached the spot. Deputy Coroner J. D. Stephens went to Laton last night and brought the body to Fresno. The inquest will be held today.

Ashurst was on his way to his home at the time of the accident. Whether the machine skidded or Ashurst lost control of it has not been determined. The accident happened near the approach of a small bridge and at a spot where the roadbed is about six feet higher than the ground level. The ground is not soft at this spot and Lawther in giving his testimony said that he did not think the machine had skidded, but that the wheel was caught in a rut and Ashurst went over the embankment in trying to pull the car back into the center of the road.

Ashurst was a single man. His mother and two brothers make their home at the family ranch at Stratford. His two brothers are at present in the Philippines. John Ashurst, a brother residing in Colorado, is now visiting at the ranch.

After the inquest the remains will probably be shipped to San Jose for burial.

Greatest of All Human Blessings

"The most wonderful thing in the world is love expressed in the helpless infant. And among those aids and comforts for expectant mothers is the well known "Mother's Friend."

This is an external application to enable the abdominal muscles to become more pliant, to expand naturally without undue pain from the strain upon cords and ligaments.

Applied as directed upon those muscles involved it soothes the fine network of nerves with which all the muscles are supplied. Thus a great share of the pains so much dreaded may be avoided and the period of expectancy passed in comfort.

There is no question but what such relief has a marked influence upon the general health of the mother.

In a little booklet sent by mail much useful information is given to inexperienced mothers. It tells how to use "Mother's Friend" and how to avoid caking breasts. It has been prepared in our laboratory for over forty years and is known favorably to most druggists everywhere. Get a bottle to-day and write for book to Bradfield Regulator Co., 309 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Be sure to ask for and see that you get "Mother's Friend."

REV. BURDEN SPEAKS AT BIG TENT MEETING

Rev. John Oliver Will Conduct Services This Evening

Rev. Thomas Burden, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, spoke at the tent revival meeting, on Van Ness avenue, last evening, on the "Vision of Isaiah."

"Upon our conception of God depends our views, high or low, the speaker said. If you tell me what your God is, I will tell you what your life is. If your conception of God is taken from Isaiah, it is one of holiness. When Isaiah conceived that God was Holy he exclaimed, "Woe is me." Isaiah was unable to understand how with all his perfections, he could dwell with God."

Rev. Burden explained that the revival that Isaiah received should represent the regenerating power which should change a man's life and make him think and act in a lofty manner.

Rev. John Oliver, district superintendent of the Methodist church will address the meeting this evening.

NOVEL TO AID IN "DRY" CAMPAIGN

Katherine Oliver Writes "The Claw" to Be Feature of War on Booze

What is announced to be the "Uncle Tom's Cabin of the Dry Campaign in California" has been written by Katherine Elspeth Oliver, a well known newspaper woman in this state, formerly of Fresno and now a resident of southern California. Miss Oliver's novel, which is to be issued on October 12, next, by the Out West Company of Los Angeles, involves impressions of the need of liquor reform gained during the course of newspaper work, and it is said that the plot of the novel turns upon incidents in and out of a newspaper office. Miss Oliver says of her production:

"The story will be called 'The Claw.' It deals with the drink problem from the economic and biological standpoint. I have not by any means given the whole argument into the mouths of the drys. In fact I've given my wet men such strong ones, and provided men of such convincing character that I was afraid for a time that I'd have trouble in refuting those arguments, as of course, I do in the end. The story has local color, but will not be recognizable since I have for my own purposes confused local environment. Of course the characters are wholly fiction people. But I have used the newspaper office as a large part of the setting as, in fact all my entire view-point of the 'booze' problem is taken from the standpoint of a newspaper worker."

Miss Oliver was for about a year a special writer on the Fresno Evening Herald, where her literary work was most attractive.

CONDIT SUCCUMBS TO HEART ATTACK

Funeral to Take Place at 2 o'Clock This Afternoon

Walter L. Condit, for seven years an employe of the Fresno Morning Republican, died yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock in his apartment at the Savoy hotel, without regaining consciousness. Mr. Condit suffered an attack of heart trouble Monday night just before starting for work and later dropped into a state of unconsciousness. Doctors were summoned and it was announced that Condit's death was only a matter of hours, Condit's friends hoped until the end that he would survive.

Yesterday complete funeral arrangements were made by Condit's personal friends here. Services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Curtis Heall's chapel, 1429 K street. Rev. Walles of St. Paul's Methodist church will conduct the services. In keeping with Mr. Condit's request, made many weeks before his death, the services will be very simple. When seriously ill some time ago, he requested that the Lord's Prayer and Psalms 23 and 121 be read at his funeral. He also wanted "Nearer My God To Thee" and "Abide With Me" sung. These requests will be carried out. The pallbearers will be William Glass, Henry Hawson, Ben Brown, Gordon Slade, Ben Walker and Burt Beaufoy of Bakersfield. Burial will be in Mountain View cemetery at the side of Condit's wife, who died in 1905.

Condit was born in Orange, New Jersey, April 3, 1860. He married in that state and in 1900 moved to California for his health. For about a year Condit and his wife camped in General Grant National park.

For some time Condit was employed in the business office of the Evening Democrat, but, following the death of his wife, August 12, 1905, he returned to his home in New Jersey. Two years later Condit returned to Fresno and accepted a position as proof-reader on The Republican. He held that position up to the time of his death. His mother died recently in New Jersey, and he was planning to make a trip to his old home as soon as his health would permit.

Condit is survived by three brothers, Louis H. Condit and Arthur Condit of East Orange, New Jersey; Raymond Condit of Newark, New Jersey. Mrs. Horace N. Pierson, a sister, resides at Sag Harbor, Long Island. Miss Mary F. Condit, another sister, lives at the home place. The relatives were informed by telegram yesterday of the death.

MONTEREY PLANS BIG "FISH FEED"

Advices from Monterey are to the effect hat the sportsmen of that city have arranged for a "fish feed" to be held there on October 24, and they are sending invitations to all of the commercial organizations throughout the state. The "fish feed" is to be patterned after the "goose stew" that was given in Sacramento in 1912, and will be given on the beach in front of the city. Fish of all of the many varieties that are caught here will be served after they are cooked by the most famous chefs of the state. Preparations are now being made to care for hundreds of visitors.

PRINCE AGAIN WOUNDED

NISH, Sept. 22.—Prince George of Servia has again been wounded, this time while leading a charge of a Servian battalion. He was first wounded at Belgrade early in August by a fragment of shell when that city was being bombarded.

DAY SET FOR FIRE PREVENTION HERE

On October 9 Clean Up Rubbish and Prepare for Fall

October 9, 1914, will be the forty-third anniversary of the great Chicago fire. In order that fire may come from evil and saving be secured through past loss, the governors of most of the Western and some of the eastern states have for the past few years designated October 9 as Fire Prevention Day. The choice of this day is appropriate not only because of its being so important an anniversary, but also because of the time of the year. The approach of winter, the accumulation of rubbish during the summer months, the necessity of putting up stoves and fixing furnaces for the winter's use, all combine to render extraordinary care necessary at this particular time.

The admonition of citizens that they clean up the rubbish and debris around their premises; that they overhaul stoves and furnaces and put them in proper order for the winter; that they remove all other fire hazards as far as possible; that they prevent grass fires and forest fires by being careful to extinguish all bon fires before leaving them; and that every other possible means be used to reduce the fire waste and add to the sum of human health and happiness, comes sometimes with greater force when it has an official setting. This is given it by the proclamation of the governor suggesting that these things be done

WEBSTERS TELL OF RELIEF IN LONDON

European Trip of Fresnans Is Curtailed By War

Back from war-riddled Europe with their tour of the continent curtailed because of the continental contest, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Webster and daughter, Nancy Hope, bring with them tales of the street scenes in London and of the work being accomplished by the American Citizens' Committee. The Websters left Fresno the first of April and did not intend to return to the United States until next spring. Their trip was brought to an unexpected end in London when war was declared and the Websters returned home without making a tour of Holland and Belgium as they had previously planned.

Returning from one of the side trips out of London, the Websters learned for the first time that war had been declared. Webster stated last night that the streets were thronged with people and that war was in the air. He also stated that he did not learn much of the cause of the war that was taking place on the continent until he reached the United States.

"We were living on Holland street," said Mr. Webster, "and at nightfall soldiers started to tramp past the house, and they continued all night. This was kept up for more than a week. There was nothing in the newspapers as to the destination of the English soldiers. There was lots of news published, but very little detail given. It was most all guess work.

"There were more than a 100,000 Americans in London during our three weeks' stay there after war was declared, and when we left we were informed there were still more than 20,000 Americans on their way to London from the continent. An American Citizens' committee was formed and made headquarters in the Savoy hotel. Americans gathered at the hotel every day. A paper was published daily and in this manner authentic news was received, the dates for sailing announced, and notices published for missing Americans. Stranded Americans were given $1.25 a day. Americans in poor health were given $1.75. Herbert Hoover, an engineer in Europe, who married a Stanford girl, was one of the hardest workers on the committee. Business houses were closing when we left.

"It was three weeks before I was able to engage passage for my family. First I secured passage on the "Carmania," sailing August 11, but the day before the vessel was to leave the English took the boat and she is now in South American waters. Later we secured passage on the St. Louis, sailing October 7, but were able to exchange the passage for tickets on the Royal Edward, which sailed August 26 from Bristol.

"For two days and nights the ship was guarded by a cruiser to keep off the Germans. Every port hole was darkened at night, no whistles were blown or the fog horn sounded. The boat several times went into a dense fog and the ship was stopped. One morning when we arose, after the ship had been stopped all night, we were off the coast of Labrador and upon looking out the port hole saw numerous ice bergs. Later on deck we counted them and found there were 32. During the night the steamer had struck one of the bergs and the rudder was broken. It was not repaired until late in the day.

"The trip up the St. Lawrence river was very slow because of the mines. The boat was very crowded and women made their beds on billiard tables and many slept on the floor in the salon. All were glad when the boat docked at Montreal."

The Websters sailed from Philadelphia on the Marion of the American line. They reached Liverpool the last of the month. Many side trips were taken and they visited Shakespeare's home at Stratford-on-Avon. At Oxford they went through the colleges and were the guests of honor at a dinner where between forty and fifty of the Rhodes students were assembled. They went by steamer to Windsor Castle and were among the few Americans admitted to the Albert Memorial chapel where King Edward and the Duke of Clarence are buried.

In London the Websters met Dr. J. C. Cooper and daughter, of Fresno, and they made a party and toured Ireland and Scotland. On another trip out of London they visited Webster's birthplace at Sheffield, Yorkshire.

On the trip back to Fresno from Montreal Mr. and Mrs. Webster and daughter stopped over in Camden, Me., Mrs. Webster's birthplace. They also made stops at Niagara Falls, Boston and Chicago.

Come See How Cars Have Changed

The new HUDSON Six-40—designed by Howard E. Coffin—will show you all the latest trends in cars.

—One trend is toward modest size. Here it is, with ample room for seven.

—Another is toward lightness. Here is a car that weighs 1000 pounds less than the old-time average for cars of this size. Yet there never was a sturdier car.

Here is a new-type motor which lowers operative cost about 30 per cent.

HUDSON

Here is the "One-Man" top. Here are wires in metal conduits, automatic spark advance, new-method carburetion. Here is locked ignition and lights. Here the speedometer is driven from the transmission.

Here are all the comforts, all the conveniences that the best designers know.

A New Price

And here is a new price for a high-grade car. No quality car—either a Four or a Six—has ever been sold so low.

Even last year's price on the HUDSON Six-40 has been reduced $200 by this year's trebled output. Yet this year's model has 31 improvements.

This is today the finest example of the coming type of car. It will show you more advances than any other car in town.

See it while it's new.

THOUSAND-DOLLAR VAUDEVILLE AT PLAZA

ALL-STAR BILL WITH UNIQUE SPECIALTIES

THE THREE CAVALIERS, SINGING TRIO AT PLAZA

Even Thousand Dollar Vaudeville has its ups and downs. The new bill opening at the Plaza tonight and which Manager Hesse has decided rightly deserves this auspicious title, is one of the best of even this exclusive class. The acts are uncommonly good, at least one of them having been known in all parts of the world.

Swan, World Traveler.

Robert F. Swan has appeared in all parts of the world and has every where been a big attraction. His private stationery gives a list of the places that he has appeared or at least a few of them, and every large city of Europe is included in the list.

Swan is known as the "dancing juggler" and his feats are unique in every way. He is an eccentric dancer and juggler who gives a remarkable exhibition of balancing and manipulating curious articles, at the same time dancing.

Palfrey, Barton and Brown in "Follies of Vaudeville."

This is the big scream on the bill for this time. The trio presenting this act have one of the funniest acts of this kind that has ever been presented in Fresno and is in every respect a "big time act." This is one of the features for the "Thousand Dollar Bill" which opens tonight at the Plaza.

This is one of the funniest acts that ever broke into vaudeville and has become one of the sensations of the year.

Street Musicians.

Rosella and Rosella, comic street musicians have a riot in their act. This is another of the headliners coming to the Plaza this time in the biggest vaudeville show of the entire season. There hasn't been a funnier act than this in this city.

Three Cavaliers.

This trio of singers have an act that is exceptionally good. They sing all of the newest songs and have an act that is extraordinarily well received.

Steve Jakon.

This young gentleman with the old-time name spelled in the new-time way, is a singer and instrumentalist of unusual ability.

With a fully Keystone act, to complete the bill, the Plaza has one of the most enjoyable shows scheduled for the rest of the week that has ever been featured here in vaudeville. The name that has been given this bill is guarantee of its quality.

Performances are given at 7:15 and 9:15. Tickets should be engaged in advance over phone 942.—Adv.

AUDIENCES GRIPPED BY THE "ESCAPE"

KINEMA STILL UNABLE TO HANDLE CROWDS

BLANCHE SWEET AS SEEN IN "THE ESCAPE" AT KINEMA

In days gone by the villian was hissed and the hero clapped in the cheap melodramatic theaters, and few ever thought that a day would come when our best and most representative citizens would be so engrossed and gripped by the thread or action that they forgot themselves to the extent of hissing the villain and roundly applauding the arrival of the police.

This is just what has been happening at the Kinema every evening during the showing of the "Escape" when Bill Melton, who has been gathering the hatred of every spectator by his utter debasement, is chased by the police and in a most gripping gun fight is shot down.

Not a Dry Eye.

One elderly German was heard to remark last night that during one of the scenes "there wasn't a dry eye in the house—he had never had a play carry him away as did the Escape."

Nor was that the only emotion appealed to, for of thrills there were plenty and most of all there is the powerful lesson brought out that has been preached by authors and teachers with little success, but which here can't help but soak into the mind of the most obdurate.

An Uncanny Faculty.

The genius displayed by Griffith in chosing types is positively uncanny—one cannot but be aware of how close our ideas of just how these different types ought to look and act comes to the way Griffith has made these characters play.

Who could be sweeter and more appealing in the part than Blanche Sweet? Who could be sillier but pull our heart strings harder than Mae Marsh? Who naturally is beautiful (as will be shown this Thursday when she is seen in another play with Mary Pickford as an added feature) but who here has made herself the ugly duckling.

An Ugly Brut.

There is not another man playing in the pictures who could be the overwhelming brute that Donat Crisp does, who could be a bulldozing second-rate prizefighter and do it so thoroughly that every soul actually hates him.

Robert Hairon is splendid in semi-idiotic parts and has no peer in this work—he naturally fell heir to this part and is thoroughly convincing.

One Wonderful Night.

The "Escape" will be shown all the rest of this week to be followed by "The Opium Smugglers" Sunday, and the well known contest story that raised so much comment in the "Ladies' World," when Francis X. Bushman was chosen the most popular photo-player. "One Wonderful Night" will be shown Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.—Adv.

THRILLING STORY OF DEVOTION AT PASTIME

"MOTHER LOVE" THE FILM FEATURE TODAY

Any story written or told which has for it's motive of being, supreme, undeniable love of mother for child, is certain to be of great heart interest, and especially, as in the Film drama, "Mother Love," this devotion causes endless suffering and hardship, is such a tale doubly appealing.

In "Mother Love" that powerful, yet simple filmed story, which comes to the Pastime Theater today, a highly accomplished and beautiful young girl, wins a scholarship in a school of music, by reason of her mastery of the violin, and "heeling her studies intending to become renowned in her chosen art.

Her Career Blocked.

Musically she is progressing splendidly, when a deacon of the village church, who is also the village banker, falls in love with the musician, and to accomplish his end, tells her father that music is having a bad effect upon the character of his daughter, and to prevent her destruction, she must become his wife. Gripping scenes succeed each other with great rapidity, and at the wedding, which comes to pass, the father is stricken, and his daughter is alone in the world.

After a year a child is born, and the young wife is subjected to abuse and neglect. The "Good Deacon" deprives her of her violin, and prevents her friends from calling.

Becomes Famous.

At the inhumane treatment, she rebels, and makes her way to a large city, where she becomes famous as an accomplished musician, only to suffer constant annoyance at the hands of the man who has made her life miserable.

He even sends a box of white crepe, signifying that her baby is dead, and she hurries home, refusing, however, to believe such is the case, though taken by him to a newly made grave in the village cemetery.

After much mental and heart suffering, friends intercede, and her loved baby is found safe and well.

This unusual drama ends with a fitting climax, in which the wife denounces the deacon as a hypocrite, and he faints before the congregation, unable to longer stand her scathing words.—Adv.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY IS FOUND GUILTY

Los Angeles Judge Imposes $300 Fine Upon Kern Prosecutor

Charged Grand Jury With Being Conducted for Political Effect

(Special to the Republican.)

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 22.—Judge Finlayson of Los Angeles this afternoon found District Attorney Bowen Irwin of Kern county guilty of contempt of court and fined him $300 for having declared in the progress of a political speech on the night before the primary election that the present grand jury, drawn by Judge Howard Allen Peairs was organized for political purposes and that its official acts were for political effect. Irwin has the alternative of spending 150 days in jail if he does not wish to pay the fine.

In his oral opinion, Judge Finlayson said Irwin's reasons for his speech were weak, and almost puerile, and that it appeared from the evidence that the district attorney made the charge knowing it to be untrue. It was also found that Judge Peairs should have drawn two more names after destroying the slips containing the names of J. J. Halter and I. H. Glenn. E. F. Borton, Irwin's attorney, says that the Supreme Court will be asked for a writ of prohibition against the imposition of the fine.

The hearing was resumed yesterday morning at 10 o'clock before Judge Frank G. Finlayson of Los Angeles, sitting in Judge Peairs' court. The witnesses questioned were H. I. Glenn, one of the men whose name was stricken from the grand jury list, illegally, Irwin says; for good reason, according to Judge Peairs, the defendant Irwin; Judge H. A. Peairs and Attorney James Farrullar, who is prosecuting Irwin.

Attorney Fred Borton, Irwin's counsel, in the course of his questioning tried to bring out the fact that the suit against Irwin and other suits that have been tried of late in Kern county against public officers have been a part of the anti-Old Guard campaign. In the course of the proceedings Judge Finlayson remarked that even if there were irregularities in the selection of the grand jury, this would not affect the validity of its indictments.

On the stand yesterday Irwin admitted having said that the jury was hand-picked, that it was drawn for political purposes and was being used for such; that he had tried to impress upon his audience of 1,000 that the body was illegal, but he declared that he did not intend to embarrass the grand jury nor impair its activities nor invite resistance to its indictments by making the speech.

Irwin claimed that when the grand jury was drawn the names of two men were illegally stricken from the list. Judge Peairs, placed on the stand, admitted this, and upon being asked his reasons and consulting with the two men, who were in the trial room, said that one of these men had been crossed off because he was intemperate in the use of liquor and the other because he was the owner of property which had been used for immoral purposes.

PRESIDENT WHEELER LECTURES AT MERCED

Benjamin Ide Wheeler Delivers First of Series of Present War

MERCED, Sept. 22.—President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California last night delivered the third of a series of six lectures on the European war here in the University Extension course. Among other things, President Wheeler expressed the opinion that the hope of universal peace after this war is ridiculous, and that, as a matter of fact, this is but the beginning of a war era and that wars will occur and re-occur the rest of this age. His talk last night was largely on subjects of recent events, dating from October, 1908, at the time of the uprising of the Young Turks, and coming right down to the present war. He said that the Kaiser had an understanding with Crown Prince Franz Ferdinand, who was assassinated last June, that Austria would help Germany reach out and open up a channel of commerce southeast, and that the killing of Ferdinand terminated this well-laid plan abruptly. Dr. Wheeler said that the younger brother of Ferdinand was a man of entirely different ideas and because of his derided pro-Slav beliefs the Kaiser could not hope to renew this agreement with him.

President Wheeler said that alliances were disastrous to nations, and he said that the American people should be thankful that America has no alliances.

President Wheeler, speaking of the American people, said they were altogether too proud and too careless because of their many years of successful progress, and that this feeling might get America into serious trouble. He compared the American people to a man falling off a six-story building and who, when he was passing the fourth story in his descent said to himself: "All's well so far." Americans, said President Wheeler, think that because all's well so far it will continue so. Incidentally, he declared that the Spanish war was needless and that the same results could have been accomplished without bloodshed; in fact, Spain was ready and willing to arbitrate.

SANGER'S NEW $30,030 SCHOOL IS PATTERNED AFTER ONE AT MADERA

SANGER'S NEW $30,000 SCHOOL

SANGER, Sept. 22. — A tribute to the progressiveness and wide-awake qualities of the people of the town of Sanger, is the new Wilson grammar school, which has been erected during the last few months, to be in readiness for the present term of school, which opened last Monday. The building is rectangular in shape, and is built in the form of a hollow square. The building covers three sides of a square, the fourth side open, as can be seen by the accompanying photograph.

It is in the Mission style, and resembles both the University at Stanford and the new grammar school at Madera.

It contains eight rooms, six of them being occupied already. It will be necessary to use one of the other rooms in the course of a few weeks, as many children who are now at work in the fruit will soon be back and ready for school. A corridor extends the length of the building on the inside of the square. A large and commodious library room has been fitted up for the use of the children.

A cement basement underneath the building makes a room for the heating plant and for the storing of the odds and ends that collect about a school room. Each class-room is supplied with five windows and two doors, insuring a sufficient quantity of both fresh air and light, although it will not be necessary to depend on these at all, as a system of blower pipes insure a quantity of either warm or cold air at will, depending on the season. The air is forced through the pipes by fans. It is the aim to keep the temperature at about 70 degrees.

The building is situated upon a tract of land five acres in extent, in the eastern part of town. It is four blocks from the depot and is easily accessible to all the children on that side of the track. The grounds are now in a somewhat ragged state, but will be improved as soon as practicable.

There are now six teachers, but it will probably be necessary to employ an additional teacher in the immediate future.

The contract price for the building was $28,000. The site cost $2,500, making the total cost of the school $30,500.

Following is the list of teachers at the new school and their classes: First grade, Bessie Fysh; second, Alice Mead; third, Virginia Vance; fourth, Josephine Hines; fifth, Clara Blackman; sixth, Ella Gibson.

Miss J. E. Radley has the post of supervising principal over both the Wilson and Taft schools.

The teachers in the Taft, or old grammar school, are as follows: First grade, Sophia Hazelton and Effie Blair; second, Nora Meador; fourth, Lena Manley; fifth, Bessie Bessell; seventh, Adelia Tomkins; seventh, Elsie Tippett; eighth, J. E. Madden.

The grammar schools started in with an enrollment of 457, as compared to 300 last year.

TULARE TO GO BACK TO FORMER ROUTING

State Highway Direct South; Lateral From Visalia to Tulare

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 22.—Material changes in the original plans for the construction of a system of Tulare county highways have been made by the highway commission as the result of their recent trip to Fresno and Madera counties, where personal investigation was made of various types of roads.

It has now been unofficially decided that only one class of construction will be used, and that the very best. The original plans were for two types of paving, one a high grade concrete construction with an asphalt covering and one a rock-oil macadam with an oil top.

Some changes have been decided upon in the routing of the lines, including the location of the state highway as originally recommended, down the line of the Southern Pacific railroad from Goshen through Tulare to the south line of the county, and the construction of a branch through from Visalia past Mooney Grove to Tulare.

The main line through the East Side will be, as before, Summit avenue. Branches will be run east and west from Lindsay, Tulare, Exeter, Dinuba, Visalia and Porterville.

It is believed that the changes will make necessary a bond issue of $1,400,000 instead of the $1,000,000 which was originally planned.

EDWARDS AND SIMON WIN HARDEST TENNIS MATCH

Trophies Offered Keep Interest Aroused in All Comers Tournaments Now in Session on Local Courts

By far the hardest fought tennis match in the All-Comers' Tournament was played on the Dickey court yesterday afternoon when Edwards and Simon defeated Cobb and Henderson. Alexander, after playing a poor game on Monday morning, came back yesterday and in a single match defeated Bynbee in an easy manner.

Splendid Trophies

A factor of no little importance in maintaining a keen interest in the tennis tournament is the trophies. A beautiful silver loving cup has been put up by the Commercial Club and the Benedict Club has given a bronze tennis man for the winner in the single matches. For the champion team in the double tournament the Benedict Club has given two $5 racquets.

The single champion prizes must be won for two successive years in the annual tournaments in order to pass into the perpetual ownership of the winner. On winning the championship game, however, the winner's name will be engraved on the trophy and it will be left in his possession unless defeated at the next tournament.

Yesterday's Results

At the Dickey court in the morning George Alexander defeated Ralph Bynbee 6-4, 6-1. Russell Simon and Edward Parl defeated S. W. Cunningham and H. M. King, 6-3, 6-4. At the Maupin court Frank Warner and Allie Hecker won from R. C. Avery and E. W. Lindsay, 6-3, 7-5.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Chicago made it two out of three from New York today by taking the last game of the season in New York by a score of 5 to 4. The visitors hammered Mathewson unmercifully in the first inning and scored all their runs on three singles, a double, a triple, a wild pitch and a wild throw by Meyers. Cheney on the other hand was invincible and shut out the champions with three hits. Score:

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—Errors and passes played a big part in today's game, which St. Louis won from Philadelphia, 5 to 4. Nearly all the runs of both teams were due to fielding and battery misplays. Huggins and McGee each went to bat four times and scored two runs, and yet neither was charged with a time at bat. Huggins drew three bases on balls and was hit by the pitcher, while Magee revived four bases on balls. Score:

Aitchison was ineffective in the fourth and the Reds scored three runs on him. His wildness in the ninth let in Killifer with the tieing run. The score:

EASTERN HORSES SMASH RECORDS

Anna Bradford Lowers Own World Mark for 3 Year Pacers ....

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 22.—At the Columbus Grand circuit races today a time average better than any ever known was made by four sets of trotters and pacers. Thirteen heats were raced to an average of 2:05 1-5. The principal contributor to this exhibition of extreme speed were Champions Anna Bradford and Etawah.

Anna Bradford lowered her own world's record of 2:03 1-4, for three year old pacers, to 2:01 1-2, and took away from William the record of 2:05 1-4, and 2:05 for a two heat three-year old pacing performance. Squantum, the contender against the filly, was time separately in 2:01, and 2:02 1-4.

Etawah made a break in the first heat of the Capital City stake trot and it was taken by Omar in 2:05 1-4. The Geers horse then won two heats in the same time and ended the race with a fourth heat in 2:04 1-4, making the total time 8:20 1-4, and breaking the previous four heat record of 8:20 3-4, made by Dudie Archbale. The final heat time took from Sonano the record of 2:05 1-4, for a fastest fourth heat.

Margaret Dillon, a pronounced favorite, won the card's richest event, the $10,000 Hoster Columbus trotting stake in straight heats. In the middle heat she equaled her record, 2:04 1-2, taken at Grand Rapids early this season.

Carna G., won the 2:08 pace, the first heat going to Little Alfred, which in heavy betting, was a strong second choice. Cleo B., was the favorite but acted badly, barely escaping being distanced in the third heat.

Notice is hereby given to the electors of the State of California that the following Acts and Initiative Measures will be submitted to the people of the State of California for their ratification at the next general election, to be holden on the third day of November, A. D. 1914:

SACRAMENTO STATE BUILDING BONDS

An act to provide for the issuance and sale of state bonds to be known as "state building bonds," to provide a fund for the erection and equipment of state buildings in the city of Sacramento for state purposes, creating a commission to determine the amount to be expended for furnishing and equipping said buildings and accepting a suitable site, creating a sinking and interest fund for the payment of interest on said bonds and the redemption of the same, making an appropriation therefor, making an appropriation of five thousand dollars for the expenses of printing and lithographing said bonds and providing for the submission of this act to a vote of the people.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of creating and providing a fund for the indebtedness hereby authorized to be incurred, as hereinafter provided, the state treasurer shall immediately after the issuance of the proclamation of the governor, provided for in section ten hereof, prepare six thousand suitable bonds of the State of California, in the denomination of five hundred dollars each. The whole issue of said bonds shall not exceed the sum of three million dollars, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum from the date of issuance thereof and both principal and interest shall be payable in gold coin of the present standard of value, and they shall be payable at the office of the state treasurer at the expiration of fifty years from their date. Said bonds shall bear date the second day of July, 1915, and shall be payable on the second day of July, 1965. The interest accruing on such of said bonds as are sold shall be due and payable at the office of the state treasurer on the second day of January and on the second day of July of each year after the sale of the same. At the expiration of fifty years from the date of said bonds all bonds sold shall cease to bear interest, and the state treasurer shall call in, forthwith pay and cancel the same out of the moneys in the sinking and interest fund provided for in this act. All bonds issued shall be signed by the governor, and countersigned by the controller, and shall be endorsed by the state treasurer, and the said bonds shall be so signed, countersigned, and endorsed by the officers who are in office on the second day of July, 1915, and each of said bonds shall have the seal of the state impressed thereon. The said bonds signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed as herein provided when sold shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California, though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the person signing, countersigning and endorsing, or any or either of them, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of such office or offices.

SEC. 2. Interest coupons shall be attached to each of said bonds, so that such coupons may be removed without injury to or mutilation of the bond. Said bonds shall be consecutively numbered, and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer who shall be in office on the second day of July, 1915. But no interest on any of said bonds shall be paid for any time which may intervene between the date of any of said bonds and the issue and sale thereof to a purchaser, unless such accrued interest shall have been, by the purchaser of said bond, paid to the state at the time of such sale.

SEC. 3. The sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses that may be incurred by the state treasurer in having said bonds prepared.

SEC. 4. When the bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be duly executed, they shall be sold by the state treasurer at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in such parcels and numbers as shall be directed by the governor of the state; but the state treasurer must reject any and all bids for said bonds, or for any of them, which shall be below the par value of said bonds so offered plus the interest which has accrued thereon between the date of sale and the last preceding interest maturity date and he may, by public announcement, at the place and time fixed for the sale, continue such sale, as to the whole of the bonds offered, or any part thereof offered, to such time and place as he may select. When a sale is continued, as hereinabove provided, no notice need be given other than the public announcement of the continuance, as hereinabove provided. Before offering any of said bonds for sale, the said treasurer shall detach therefrom all coupons which have matured before the date fixed for such sale. Due notice of the time and place of sale of all bonds must be given by said treasurer by publication in one newspaper published in the city and county of San Francisco, and also by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, and by publication in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, once a week during four weeks prior to such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for the state treasurer must give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expenses and costs of such additional notice shall not exceed five hundred dollars for each sale so advertised. The costs of such publications shall be paid out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated on controller's warrants duly drawn for such purpose. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds, except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon, shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the state treasury, and must be by him kept in a separate fund, to be known and designated as the "state building fund" which fund is hereby established. Any and all sums which may have been paid as accrued interest shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the state treasury, and must be by him kept in a separate fund to be known and designated as the "state buildings sinking and interest fund," which fund is hereby established.

But no interest on any of said bonds shall be paid for any time which may intervene between the date of any of said bonds and the issue and sale thereof to a purchaser, unless such accrued interest shall have been by the purchaser of said bond, paid to the state at the time of such sale.

SEC. 3. The sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expenses that may be incurred by the state treasurer in having said bonds prepared. Said amount shall be paid out of the San Francisco harbor improvement fund on controller's warrants, duly drawn for that purpose.

SEC. 4. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon shall be forthwith paid over by said treasurer into the treasury, and must be by him kept in a separate fund to be known and designated as the "third San Francisco seawall fund" and must be used exclusively for the construction of wharves, piers, seawall, state railroad, spurs, betterments and appurtenances and necessary dredging and filling in connection therewith on the water front of the city and county of San Francisco. Said state treasurer shall, on controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose, employ the moneys in said sinking fund in the purchase of the bonds of the United States, or of the State of California, including any bonds authorized, issued and theretofore sold under authority of this act or of the several counties or municipalities of the State of California, which said bonds shall be kept in a proper receptacle, appropriately labeled; but he must keep always on hand a sufficient amount of money in said sinking fund with which to pay the interest on such of the state bonds herein provided to be issued as may have heretofore been sold. The state treasurer may only purchase such bonds authorized and issued under authority of this act with moneys in said sinking fund as have been theretofore sold. And to provide means for the payment of interest on the bonds that may be sold and outstanding, said treasurer shall monthly take from the San Francisco harbor improvement fund, and pay into said seawall sinking fund, an amount equal to the monthly interest then due on all bonds then sold, delivered and outstanding. The board of state harbor commissioners are hereby authorized and directed by the collection of dockage, tolls, rents, wharfage and cranage to collect a sum of money sufficient for the purposes of this act, over and above the amount limited by section two thousand five hundred and twenty-six of the Political Code of the State of California. An act authorizing the construction of the unfinished portion of the library building of the University of California, and the construction of a building for general use as a recitation building, of a building for the use of the college of agriculture, and of a building for the use of the college of natural sciences as a chemistry building, upon the grounds of said University of California at Berkeley; providing for the issuance and sale of state bonds to meet the cost of the foregoing purposes; and providing the necessary moneys for the payment of the principal and interest to become due on said bonds.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The regents of the University of California are hereby authorized to complete the construction of the library building of the University of California, and also to construct a building for general use by said university as a recitation building, a building for the use of the college of agriculture of said university, and a building for the use of the college of natural sciences of said university as a chemistry building, all on the grounds of said university in the city of Berkeley. For the purpose of meeting the cost of such construction, the State of California is hereby authorized to, and shall, incur an indebtedness in the manner provided by this act, in the sum of one million eight hundred thousand dollars ($1,800,000).

Immediately upon the taking effect of this act the treasurer of the state shall prepare eighteen hundred (1800) suitable bonds of the State of California, negotiable in form and payable to bearer, and expressing on their face the obligation of the State of California to pay, in gold coin of the United States, the principal amount thereof at the respective dates of maturity hereinafter specified, together with interest, as hereinafter specified, in the denomination of one thousand dollars ($1000) each. Said bonds shall be numbered consecutively from one (1) to eighteen hundred (1800) inclusive, and shall bear date the fifth day of January, 1915. The total issue of such bonds shall not exceed the principal sum of one million eight hundred thousand dollars ($1,800,000), and such bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent (4½ per cent) per annum upon the principal from the date thereof. The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be payable in gold coin of the United States at the office of the treasurer of the state, at the times and in the manner following, to wit: The first forty (40) of said bonds shall be due and payable on the fifth day of January, 1921, and forty (40) of said bonds in consecutive numerical order shall be due and payable on the fifth day of January in each and every year thereafter, until and including the fifth day of January, 1965. The interest accruing on all of said bonds that shall be sold shall be payable at the office of the treasurer of the state on the fifth day of January and on the fifth day of July of each and every year after the sale of the same. The interest on all bonds issued and sold shall cease on the day of their maturity, and the said bonds so issued and sold shall on the day of their maturity be paid, as herein provided, and canceled by the state treasurer. All bonds remaining unsold shall, at the date of the maturity thereof, be canceled and destroyed by the treasurer of the state. All bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be signed by the governor of the state, countersigned by the state controller, and endorsed by the state treasurer, and each of said bonds shall have the great seal of the State of California impressed thereon. The said bonds signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed, as herein provided, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation upon the State of California, though the sale thereof be made at a date or dates after the persons so signing, countersigning and endorsing, or any of them, shall have ceased to be the incumbents of said office or offices.

SEC. 2. Attached to each of said bonds there shall be an interest coupon for each semi-annual payment of interest thereon, negotiable in form, and payable to bearer, and expressing the obligations of the State of California to pay the amount of such semi-annual payment of interest, in gold coin of the United States, at the time of maturity thereof. Said interest coupons shall be so attached that each may be detached without injury to or mutilation of said bond, or injury to, mutilation of, or detachment from said bond of, the remainder of such coupons the time of payment of which has not yet been reached. Said coupons shall be consecutively numbered in the chronological order of their time of payment, and shall bear the lithographed signature of the state treasurer. No interest shall be paid on any of said bonds for such time as may intervene between the date of said bond and the day of sale thereof, except to the extent to which accrued interest shall have been paid to the state at the time of such sale by the purchaser of said bond.

SEC. 3. When the bonds authorized by this act to be issued shall have been signed, countersigned, endorsed and sealed, as in section 1 provided, the state treasurer shall, from time to time, sell such number thereof as the governor of the state may direct to the highest bidder for cash. The governor of the state shall, from time to time, issue to the state treasurer such direction immediately after being requested so to do through and by a resolution duly adopted and passed by a majority vote of the regents of the University of California. Such resolution shall specify the amount of money which, in the judgment of said the regents of the University of California, shall be required at such time, and the governor of the state shall direct the state treasurer to sell such number of bonds as will, at the par value thereof, equal said amount of money so required according to such resolution of the regents of the University of California. Said bonds shall be sold in consecutive numerical order, save and except that the state treasurer may sell two or more bonds at the same time in one lot, which lot, however, shall be made up of bonds consecutively numbered, the first of which in number shall be the first bond in number yet unsold. The state treasurer shall not accept any bid which is less than the par value of the bond or bonds bid for, and to the amount of the accepted bid there shall be added in each case, as a part of the purchase price to be paid by the bidder, the amount of interest which shall have accrued on the bonds bid for between the date of the payment for said bonds and the last preceding interest maturity date. Each bid shall be in writing and signed by the bidder and sealed, and shall be deposited with the state treasurer not later than the last business day preceding the date of sale. Each bid shall be accompanied by the deposit with the state treasurer, either in cash or by certified check on a reputable bank within the State of California, to the order of the State of California, of one-tenth of the amount of the par value of the bond or lot of bonds bid for. Such deposit of each unsuccessful bidder shall be returned to him immediately upon the next acceptance of his bid, and such deposit of the successful bidder shall immediately upon the acceptance of his bid become and be the property of the State of California and be placed in the state treasury to the credit of the "University of California building fund" hereinafter mentioned, and shall be credited to the successful bidder upon the purchase price of the bonds bid for in case such price is paid in full by him within the time hereinafter prescribed. At the time of sale the state treasurer shall open said bids and accept the bid of the highest bidder for cash, save and except that no bid shall be accepted which is lower in amount than the par value of the bonds bid for, and that the state treasurer may, in his discretion, reject all bids. The purchase price of the bonds sold shall be payable within ten days after the acceptance of the bid therefor, and if not so paid the successful bidder shall have no right in or to said bonds or by reason of said bid, or to the recovery of said deposit accompanying said bid, or to any allowance or credit by reason of such deposit. In case the purchase price is not so paid, the bonds so sold but not paid for shall be resold by the state treasurer upon notice as hereinafter provided in case of original sale. Bonds sold shall be deliverable to the purchaser immediately upon, and not before, the payment of the purchase price therefor. Before delivering any of said bonds, the state treasurer shall detach therefrom all interest coupons which have matured before the date of the payment of the purchase price therefor. The state treasurer may, by public announcement at the time and place fixed by him for said sale, continue such sale to such time and place as he may at the time of said continuance designate. When a sale is so continued no notice thereof need be given, other than the public announcement of such continuance by the state treasurer as just hereinbefore provided. The state treasurer shall give notice of the time and place of sale by publication in two newspapers published in the city and county of San Francisco, in one newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles, in one newspaper published in the city of Oakland, and in one newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, once a week for four weeks next preceding the date fixed for such sale. In addition to the notice last above provided for, the state treasurer may give such further notice as he may deem advisable, but the expense and cost of such additional notice shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars ($500) for each sale so advertised.

There is hereby created in and for the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the "University of California building fund," and immediately after such sale of bonds the treasurer of the state shall pay into the state treasury and cause to be placed in said "University of California building fund" the total amount received from the sale of said bonds, except such amount as may have been paid as accrued interest thereon. The amount that shall have been paid at such sale as accrued interest on the bonds sold shall be by the treasurer of the state, immediately after such sale, paid into the treasury of the state and placed in a fund to be known as the "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds."

The moneys placed in the "University of California building fund," pursuant to the provisions of this section, shall be used under the direction of the regents of the University of California exclusively for the completion of the construction of said library building and the construction of the other buildings hereinbefore mentioned.

Moneys shall be drawn from said "University of California building fund," for the purposes of this act, upon warrants duly drawn by the controller of the state, upon claims made by the regents of the University of California and approved by the state board of control.

SEC. 4. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund in the state treasury such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal of, and interest on, the bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act as said principal and interest become due and payable. There shall be collected each year, and in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected, such sum in addition to the ordinary revenues of the state as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds maturing in said year, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the levy and collection of said revenue to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund to be known and designated as the "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds." The state treasurer shall, on the first day of July, 1915, and on the first day of each January and the first day of each July thereafter, transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to said "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds" such an amount of money as shall be required to pay the interest maturing at the next interest payment date on the amount of said bonds sold and outstanding; and shall likewise, on the first day of January of the year 1921, and the first day of January of each year thereafter in which any of said bonds sold and outstanding mature, transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to said "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds" such an amount of money as may be required to pay the principal of such of said bonds sold and outstanding as mature in such year.

SEC. 5. The principal and interest of all of said bonds which may be sold shall be paid at the time the same become due from said "interest and sinking fund of the University of California building bonds," and the faith of the State of California is hereby pledged for the payment in full of the principal and interest of said bonds so sold as the same mature. Both principal and interest shall be so paid upon presentation to the state treasurer on or after the day of the maturity of the same of the bond or coupon so maturing, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and required to make such payment. Warrants for such payments shall be duly drawn by the state controller upon the request of the state treasurer.

SEC. 6. There shall be provided in the general appropriation bill to be passed at the next regular session of the legislature sufficient money to defray all expenses that shall be incurred by the state treasurer in the preparation of said bonds and in the advertising of the sale thereof as in this act provided.

SEC. 7. GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Increasing domestic supplies and an apparently lull in export trade put the wheat market today under a good deal of selling pressure. The close was heavy at 2 1-8c to 3c under last night. Corn showed a net loss of 3-8c to 1 1-8c and oats of 1-2@5-8c to 3-4c. In provisions the outcome varied from unchanged figures to a decline of 25c.

Next to nothing was heard of export business in wheat. So far as could be ascertained, 100,000 bushels was the total amount disposed of anywhere for ocean shipment.

Corn prices were handicapped by the downturn in wheat and by prospects of a yield exceeding former estimates. Sympathy with the other cereals carried down oats. Active seaboard demand formed only a part offset.

Provisions sagged from the start. The blame was laid chiefly to the decline of values for grain and hogs.

Close: Wheat—Sept., $1.08½; Dec., $1.11; May, $1.18 1-8c.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22—Shipment of the biggest cargo of California products that has been sent out from this port to the west coast of South America was made the occasion for a celebration by the Chamber of Commerce and prominent shipping men just before the departure today of the Norwegian freighter Cuzco. The cargo consisted of hops, lumber, prunes, paper, canned oysters, canned and dried fruit, chickens, jute bags, dynamite and lumber. Among the speakers was Mayor James Rolph, Jr.

POTENTATES ASK TO AID BRITISH

LONDON, Sept. 22, 5:45 p. m.—"All my troops and resources" is the latest offer of Gaekwar of Baroda to the British government.

Nearly all of the Indian potentates have expressed a desire for personal service in the field, and many have offered the British government "all I possess."

The government of Madras will supply a fully equipped hospital ship of 300 beds for the use of the Indian expeditionary forces.

California Oil

VALLEY PIPE LINE IS GIVEN PERMISSION TO ISSUE STOCK

Subsidiary of Shell Syndicate to Use Money for Pipe Line to Bay

Will Be 100 Miles Long; Is Now Under Way; Will Handle 20,000 Daily

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Permission to issue 53,154 shares of capital stock for not less than $50 per share was granted today by the State Railroad Commission to the Valley Pipe Line Company, a corporation floated by the Royal Dutch Shell interests, the principal international competitor of the Standard Oil Company, which has a pipe line now under construction from the Coalinga oil field to its proposed refinery at Martinez.

In its application the company stated that it expected to raise more than $5,000,000 and this expectation may be realized if the shares are marketed at a figure sufficiently high. The low upset price of $50 was set, the commission explained, on account of the unsettled condition of the money market resulting from the European war.

Permission to allow 5,000 shares as a promotion fee to Marcus Samuels was not granted, because the services rendered were not specified except at "personal."

The Valley Pipe Line will stretch 100 miles from the Coalinga properties of the Coalinga Oilfield, Ltd., to Martinez. The yield of the fields thus far developed is now approximately 20,000 barrels per day.

WILL DEMAND TARIFF ON MEXICAN IMPORTS

Oilmen Propose to Ask for Protection From Competition in South

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 22.—That the internal tax of 2 cents per gallon on gasoline will not be levied without a protest is known by the general feeling that in order to protect California and other producers it is being suggested that the United States place an import tax on the 2,000,000 barrels of oil brought into this country each month from Mexico. The Oklahoma producers have already adopted resolutions to this effect and forwarded them to their representatives at Washington.

With 2,000,000 barrels of Mexican oil coming into this country each month, it is a matter of interest that American producers are monthly storing a similar amount because they cannot find purchasers. And the Mexican products is being sold. Importation from Mexico has increased more rapidly than is generally known.

From 145,000,000 gallons for the year ending June 30, 1913, the imports of oil from Mexico jumped to nearly three times that amount a year later, and the year ending June 30, 1914, showed an importation from there aggregating 772,000,000 billions. July of this year showed the percentage increasing still more.

It is pointed out that this big influx of cheap oil has helped, even more than American production carried to extremes, to destroy the market value of crude and fuel oils. The war, overproduction, hard times—all are to blame, but as much as any of these is Mexico responsible.

"Tax Mexican imports," say the oil men, "instead of putting a 2-cent tax on gasoline, and not only will American producers be aided, but the United States will secure the revenue she seeks by levying the internal gasoline tax."

IDENTIFY OILMAN KILLED IN MIDWAY

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 22—The identity of Leonard Klausch, the Maricopa oil worker who died here September 8 of a broken back, refusing to tell the names or addresses of his relatives, was made clear yesterday by a letter received from a sister at Los Angeles, who wrote the undertakers and arranged for the funeral. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon. The boy was a native of Portland, Oregon, and had many relatives at that place.

BRITISH CRUISERS IN SOUTH ATLANTIC

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—There was a persistent report today that six of the British cruisers which have been patrolling North Atlantic waters have been ordered south at full speed to clear the South Atlantic of German cruisers recently active there.

It was said they would make special efforts to capture the Karlsruhe and the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinz Wilhelm. The report was given added credance when it became known that mail received at the British consulate here for delivery to the British cruisers had been forwarded to Rio Janeiro.

Two cruisers, the Lancaster and the Suffolk, were outside the harbor today.

POSTAL DEPOSITS ARE $48,000,000

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22— Deposits amounting to $48,000,000 were in the 9653 postal savings banks of the country August 31, last, according to a preliminary examination today of reports to the post office department. The increase in August was the largest since the system was inaugurated, amounting to about $4,200,000. New York City, with deposits totalling $5,365,544, leads all other offices.

Other offices showing large increases in August were: Los Angeles, $53,000; Portland, Ore., $31,000; Butte, $44,000; Seattle, $27000; Tacoma, $21,000. Available data indicates increases of $65,000 for San Francisco.

REGULATION OF OIL PRODUCTION FAVORED

Oilmen Discuss Question Following Denial of Bank at Taft

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 22.—Local oil men, witnessing the action of the State Railroad Commission in regulating utilities and preventing corporations from entering fields already well served by corporations already on the ground, would welcome a state declaration whereby oil would be declared a public utility and the commission could restrain overproduction by compelling would-be drillers to come forward and show cause that the starting of a new well was a public necessity.

At Taft, when a new bank was designed, the State Bank Commission refused a charter on the ground that public welfare did not demand a new bank, as those already established were capable of handling all the business there was. Applying the same reasoning to oil, which should be a business as stable as the average run, the enormous overproduction of past years might have been staved off.

But competition has been extreme, and many and many a well has been brought in, sometimes a gusher, whose product had to go into storage, being a drug on the market. And this very oil in storage tended and still tends to keep down the price of oil. Every new unneeded well brought in adds to the embarrassment of an already bad situation.

CALIFORNIA LEADS IN OUTPUT OF OIL

Produces Nearly 40 Per Cent of Oil in United States, the Major Portion Being From Kern County

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 22.—In 1913 California produced 39.35 per cent of the petroleum output of the United States, and the major portion of this oil came from the Kern county fields. Ranking first among the states west of the Mississipi river, and fifth in the United States, for mineral production. According to the United States Geological Survey, California has for the past decade rested her supremacy on her oil production, leading in oil as Pennsylvania does in coal.

Although California's oil output was nearly 40 per cent of the country's, its value was only 19.26 per cent. Prior to 1903, when oil took first place, gold was the leader. Even although gold has fallen from first place, California leads the others in gold production also.

The record for 1913 shows an increase in the amount of crude oil produced of over 10,500,000 barrels, or from 87,268,536 barrels in 1912, to 97,788,525 barrels in 1913. The value increased in proportion, or from $39,616,357 in 1912, to $45,709,400 in 1913.

DENY HABEAS CORPUS TO MINERS IN BUTTE

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 22—An oral order was entered by the Supreme Court today dismissing the applications of Muckie McDonald, president of the Mine Workers' Union of Butte, Owen Smith, Joseph Bradley, D. W. Malone, Ed Ross and James Chapman, for writs of habeas corpus to secure their release from jail in Butte, where they are held by the state militia. The order, however, gives the petitioners the right of renewing the application if at the end of thirty days they have not been turned over to the civil authorities and it is made to appear that the district court is able to take jurisdiction.

The prisoners are held under martial law on charges of having deported miners not in sympathy with the Mine Workers' Union.

CONVICTS WILL CHANGE UNIFORMS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22— The convicts at Folsom prison will cast aside their stripes and don uniforms of light blue about January 1, according to the decision of the state prison board of directors at the meeting held in Folsom prison yesterday. The suits are to be made by the convicts at San Quentin prison and it is believed they will not be ready until the first of the year. The prison board granted seven paroles to take effect at once and three to become effective later. The thirty-three applications for parole were passed upon.

AUSTRIAN TROOPS NOW IN BRUSSELS

AMSTERDAM, via London, Sept. 22, 4:20 p. m.—A message to the Telegraaf says German troops who were in Brussels have left the city for the French and Russian fronts and the army now occupying is Austrian, and has with it several heavy siege guns.

The Telegraaf says that as an outcome of quarreling between Bavarian and Prussian soldiers, several of the Bavarian ring-leaders in these disorders have been court martialed and shot.

Brussels is reported quiet. The price of provisions has increased considerably and some products are scarce.

POPULATION OF PARIS, 1,026,507

PARIS, Sept. 22, 3:50 p. m.—Official figures on the census of Paris within the city walls, show that there are today in the capital city 362,454 fewer families than there were in 1911. The number of households now in the city is 761,200. The population shows a reduction of 1,026,507, as compared to 1911. This is equal to 65 per cent of the population in normal times.

BRITISH ORDER HARNESS IN U. S.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 22 — The British government placed an order here today for 1,000 sets of artillery harness and 500 cavalry saddles to be ready for delivery in six weeks. Similar orders have been placed, it is said, in Cincinnati. It is understood that cavalry and artillery mounts are being bought in Virginia.

SHE KISSES HER RESCUERS

In their efforts to save a girl from drowning off Tennessee avenue, James Rezzer, of Wilmington, Del., and Frank L. Lobdell, a Philadelphia youth, nearly lost their lives. With the girl they were brought ashore completely exhausted, and in rapid succession the guards saved six others who were in the same offset, while an excited crowd cheered their daring.

Rezzer and Lobdell, in bathing, were attracted by the girl's screams for help as a current gripped her. Neither is a very good swimmer, but both jumped into deep water, and fought their way to her assistance.

Arriving at the girl's side, they raised her between them, but found they could do nothing against the pull of the undertow. Guard Monroe worked his way to them with a buoy. Guards Conover and Hurley got to them from another direction, and between the three life-savers the drowning bathers were saved. The girl refused to give her name, but implanted a kiss on the right cheeks of the two heroes before she left the hospital tent. -- Atlantic City Dispatch to Philadelphia North American.

THE TYRANNY OF THE TAILOR

Tailors are growing as tyrannical as dressmakers. A West End tailor told me on Saturday quite seriously that he habitually declined to make a dress suit for any customer who would not consent to have his shirts specially cut so as to insure the correct fit of the waistcoat. He added that he had refused to sell lounge suits to several would-be customers who were quite willing to pay the high price demanded, simply because in his opinion, their poor physique or doubtful sartorial distinction would be a bad advertisement for his clothes.

Every man who wears his new suits must discard every tie he already possesses, and purchase special ties of the same pattern as the suits, but two shades—he emphasized this point—two shades darker. Well, well!—London Express.

HER LOVER WAS A DETECTIVE.

Coroner Corodon Norton of Freeport, Long Island, was talking to a New York reporter about the Carmen case.

"Great skill has been displayed in this case," the young coroner, ended. "Uncanny skill, I might almost say. Skill which reminds me of the young lady at Coney.

"A young lady met a young gentleman at Coney, and they took a bath and a long walk on the beach, and then they sat down side by side on the white, clean sand.

"The spot was a lonely one, and the young man began to talk of love. He drew nearer and nearer to the young lady. Finally he reached out his arm to encircle her waist.

"But she drew back sharply and at the same time she took a pair of large white cotton gloves from her handbag.

"'If you're going to be friendly, George,' said she, 'just slip on these. My stead's a detective, and if he found your finger prints on this here white belt of mine—'"—From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

"MUTE" YELLS FOR A DRINK

Policeman McCarthy of the Englewood police station, jumped to his feet in surprise and listened.

"For the love of Mike, will you give me a drink?" some one was calling from the cell row.

The sergeant scratched his ear with a pencil and said to McCarthy: "The man is thirsty."

"He is," said Officer McCarthy,

"For the love of Pete, gimme a drink!" came the cry again, louder, more robust, and insistent.

"Who is it?" inquired the sergeant.

"I think it's the deaf mute," said Officer McCarthy, "I'll go see."

Five minutes later McCarthy reported.

"It was," he said.

In the Englewood court the deaf mute, Walter Boyd, of 6947 Euclid avenue, was called upon to explain. He was unable to do so and was fined $100 by Judge Graham.

Boyd, the police charged, succeeded in making a living by posing as a deaf mute and selling postal cards as well as begging. He visited the Parker school for the deaf and dumb, at Normal avenue and West Sixty-third street, and begged for alms there. An instructor started conversing with Boyd in the deaf and dumb language. It was Greek to the beggar. And the instructor immediately took him to the police station.—From the Chicago Tribune.

ENTITLED TO A DOUBT.

One afternoon a man rambled into the grocery store and in about two minutes his fine $7 trousers had wiped up a large quantity of fresh paint.

"It's your own fault!" unsympathetically declared the groceryman. "Didn't you see that sign, 'Fresh Paint'?"

"Yes, of course I did!" was the peevish response of the other. "But I didn't believe it!"

"Didn't believe it!" said the groceryman, with a puzzled expression. "Was there any reason why you shouldn't have believed it?"

"Yes," quickly responded the man. "There isn't a day that I don't come in this store and see something marked 'Fresh' that isn't fresh."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

THE COLONEL'S BOYS

An affable book agent, a familiar character in Lippincott's paragraphs, approached a prominent Texan.

"Colonel," said he, "those are mighty fine boys of yours."

"The finest ever, stranger," acquiesced the colonel. "The finest in Texas."

"I reckon you buy them anything they need, whether they want it or not."

"Then, colonel, let me sell you a cyclopedia for them. There's nothing else that will benefit them so much."

The colonel looked at the agent in astonishment.

"Why, stranger," said he, "them boys of mine don't need no cyclopedia. They ride mules."

NOT A TRUE INDICATOR

Smith, who lived in the West, left his home town early in his youth. Returning after several years he was met by an elderly acquaintance whom he had not seen in the intervening time.

"Glad to see you, old boy," greeted the elderly one, "but you look as if you had not stuck to grape juice and soda water as closely as you should."

"You mustn't judge by appearances, uncle," smiled Smith. "I have never taken more than two or three glasses a day in all my life."

"Um, I see," responded the other. "Probably your face is like some gas meters; it registers more than you consume."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

SNAKE ATTACKS BIG BULLDOG

A Boston bulldog belonging to Clarence Daggett was nearly killed Wednesday afternoon near Cady's mudhole by a large snake, which wound itself around the dog. Samuel Mitchell was near the dog and with a club succeeded in killing the snake, which was four inches in diameter. The snake was opened and inside were found fifty smaller snakes.—Central Village (Conn.) dispatch to the New York Sun.

"She makes me feel so small when she begins to talk about her ancestors. And we have no ancestors."

"Never mind, my dear. Come back at her with the pedigree of your dog."—From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Said franchise will be granted to the person, firm or corporation who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, and will agree to pay and pay to the said City of Fresno, the largest, (not less than three) per cent. of the gross receipts arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise and double track street railway, after the first five years succeeding the date of such franchise, and semi-annually thereafter during the life thereof.

Governor Hiram W. Johnson will speak at the Auditorium in Fresno at 8 o'clock tonight. The Progressive County Central Committee has completed all arrangements for a remarkable reception to the governor. T. E. Thomson, Progressive nominee for the Assembly, will preside as chairman, and more than one hundred local citizens will act as vice chairmen for the evening. W. F. Chandler, candidate for the State Senate, will make a short address at the meeting.

Three thousand chairs have been placed in the Auditorium and the Central Committee announced last night that it is doubtful if the building will be large enough to accommodate the crowd. For several days a broad advertising campaign in the surrounding country has been conducted by automobile parties, inviting voters, regardless of their party affiliations, to attend the speaking and hear the governor make clear facts concerning campaign issues.

Fresno County Day.

Today is "Fresno County Day" for the governor. He will speak at Fowler at 2 p. m., Selma 3 p. m., Kingsburg at 4 p. m. and in this city in the evening. Chester H. Rowell, H. C. Wilbur and W. F. Chandler will join the governor in his speaking tour at Fowler, where a big reception has been arranged for the party. Chandler will make an address in Fowler and at all other meetings for Johnson held during the day. The schools of Fowler will be closed during the afternoon that the teachers and pupils may hear the governor. H. C. Wuerth will preside as chairman.

W. H. Sharer will preside over the meeting at Selma, where a good attendance is assured.

A half holiday has been declared by business men at Kingsburg and everybody will attend the governor's speaking. A reception committee in automobiles will meet the governor at the city limits and conduct him to the city park, where a band will provide music for the occasion. Dr. Flora W. Walker will preside. Following the meeting a large number of Kingsburg citizens will join the governor's party and come to Fresno.

Large crowds welcomed the governor in all towns where he spoke yesterday. At Patterson and Crows Landing, school was dismissed and pupils and teachers heard the governor. Much enthusiasm was shown at all of the points where the party stopped.

YOUNG MEN HEAR THOMSON SPEAK

Water Commission Bill Is Approved By Progressive Nominee

The water commission bill, to be considered by the voters at the November election, was the subject of an address by T. R. Thomson, Progressive nominee for the assembly from the Fifty-first district, before the Young Men's Society at the Calvary Presbyterian church, corner of Tulare and M streets, last night. A good crowd was present and deep interest in what the speaker had to say was shown.

The bill is a Progressive measure and will be put into effect if the voters of the state approve it at the general election on November 3. It was passed by the last legislature.

Thomson said that he believes the bill to be one of the greatest protective measures yet to be offered the people of the state by the Johnson administration and that the voters should approve it. The object of the measure, he said, is to regain the control of all water sources of value to the people and place them under state control, to be leased to operating companies. If the bill is passed, a commission will be appointed to investigate all water sources and determine whether they were secured by legitimate means. In many cases it is thought the water resources now being dominated by companies granted franchises under careless officials will be forced back to the state by short legal procedure, according to Thomson.

Thomson estimates that the water resources of the state are valued at five million horsepower generated strength in electricity, which is equal to one billion dollars in value to the people, should the bill be approved by the voters at the November election. The bill is not approved by reactionary politicians.

Many of the objections offered to the bill were taken up by Thomson and explained to the audience. He said:

"Will the people own and control their water resources and have them developed for the greatest advantage for the people, or will they permit corporations to govern the resources and give them what they see fit to offer? This question is up to the voters in November and they must say whether they want better water resource conditions with a higher development of power and irrigation facilities in California or whether they are willing to continue getting just what a corporation will grant."
